Polio Increases Hit 32 States; Total Is Lowest Since '42

Thirty Deaths Recorded by 20 States, 318 Below Same Areas Year Ago

(By The Associated Press)
The year's sharpest rise in the number of infantile paralysis cases occurred last week—with increases noted in 32 states—but the 1947 total to date remains the lowest since 1942.

Only Wilmington, Del., found it necessary to take unusual precautions during the sudden upsurge. Swimming pools have been closed in that community.

Furthermore, reports from 20 states which have figures on deaths available, show only 30 so far this year, compared with 338 in those same states a year ago, when the nation suffered its worst outbreak since 1916.

The U. S. Public Health Service in Washington had reports of 411 new cases for the week ended August 16 throughout the nation. This compared with 279 in the preceding week, and brought to 2,664 the total reported by the service for 1947, compared with 8,841 for the comparable period in 1946. In 1942, there were 1,505 cases for the same period.

Reports gathered by the Associated Press in 28 states, plus figures for the other 20 and the District of Columbia, obtained from the Public Health Service, show a total of 2,769 cases for 1947, compared with 9,551 on a comparable basis for last year.

But, some of the states in the A.P. survey brought the figures up to August 19 for both years, whereas the Public Health Service reports date only through August 16.

In Delaware, 28 of the state's 48 cases have occurred in Wilmington—12 of them in the past few days. Swimming pools were ordered closed in Wilmington as a precautionary measure.

The Public Health Service noted sharp increases last week in Illinois where new cases doubled from 27 to 54; Michigan, from 15 to 23; Iowa 8 to 15; Delaware 5 to 12; New York, 4 to 13; Idaho, 9 to 18; Minnesota, 4 to 13; and California, 10 to 28.

Decreases were noted by the health service in last week's figures for Wisconsin, Missouri, the Dakotas, Kansas, Georgia, Tennessee, Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico and Utah; and a few states reported the same figures as the previous week.

Price Fixing Charged

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—A federal grand jury today returned an indictment charging the Brake Lining Manufacturers Association, Inc., 20 friction material manufacturing companies, and 53 of their officials, with conspiracy to fix prices of replacement brake lining and clutch facings. The filing of the indictment, which charged violation of federal anti-trust laws, was personally supervised by U. S. Attorney General Tom C. Clark.

J. A. Dwyer Heads Scout Council's Financial Board

G. A. Craig Is District Campaign Chairman, Drive to Open Here September 4

James A. Dwyer has accepted the appointment as chairman of the Ulster-Greene Boy Scout Council Committee on Finance. It was announced today by Clarence L. Dumm, president of the council. Mr. Dwyer, who replaces Walter M. Caunitz as finance chairman, is president of Dwyer Brothers and the Rondout National Bank and also vice president of the New York State Waterways Association and the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

The annual finance campaign of the Ulster-Greene Council will open in Kingston on Thursday, September 4. The campaign will be conducted in most other communities throughout the council during the month of September.

Gordon A. Craig, Sr., is district campaign chairman and will be assisted by the following deputies: William R. Stall, R. W. Garaghan, R. A. McAndrew, Police Chief Ernest A. Boss, Ward Tongue, H. V. Cross and Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy.

The Initial Gifts Committee is headed by Frederick H. Stang, county attorney. G. Herbert DeKay, member of the Finance Committee and former president of the Council, is serving as vice-chairman. The committee will meet Friday evening, August 22, in the Court Room, County Court House, at 7:30.

Walter L. Foster, council treasurer, is chairman of the Audit Committee.

The big kick-off meeting for the Kingston District Campaign will take place at the Y.M.C.A. auditorium on September 4.

Brewster Says G.O.P. Will Not Extend Life of Probe

Full River, Mass., Aug. 21 (AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Me.) announced today that Republicans will not ask for an extension of the life of the Senate War Investigating Committee beyond next January 31.

Brewster, who heads the controversial-enveloped committee, told a reporter he is "certain" the group will resume its investigation of Howard Hughes' wartime plane contracts on November 17.

But the Maine senator, here to attend Fall River's celebration of "Joe Martin Day," said he and other Republicans have no intention of suggesting that the group, once headed by President Truman when a senator, continue its inquiries in the next session of Congress.

Senate Democrats have made it plain they would fight any such move.

"It was never the intention to continue the special committee,"

'Political Vetoes' Are Charged to Him by Members of Congress

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—President Truman's forecast of a record-smashing treasury surplus of nearly $5,000,000,000 next June touched off a fresh Republican clamor today for a tax slash in 1948.

Chairman Bridges (R-N. H.) of the Senate Appropriations Committee said the President's mid-year budget review estimating tax receipts this year at $41,667,000,000—$2,100,000,000 higher than any previous forecast—proves that the country was "robbed of a tax reduction by purely political veto."

Mr. Truman twice vetoed efforts of the Republican-dominated Congress earlier this year to trim individual income taxes by $4,000,000,000.

Perhaps, Bridges declared at Fall River, Mass., "the President now will not be so determined about vetoing a tax reduction bill when it is presented to him."

But the chief executive said the $4,667,000,000 treasury surplus expected for the fiscal year ending next June 30 should go to debt retirement and to a stand-by fund to meet any domestic or world emergency.

Thus, a new tax battle when Congress returns in January began to take form.

Mr. Truman put the total expected expenditures in the current fiscal year at $37,000,000,000, and estimated Uncle Sam's income in the same period at $41,667,000,000. Last January he set the spending figure at $37,528,000,000 and the surplus at only $202,000,000.

Points of Forecast
His new bright budgetary outlook was hinged on an expectation of continued high prices, taxes, and employment—thus indicating he sees no depression on the horizon.

The President's summation last night of the government's current financial position was issued against a backdrop of sharp controversy over how near the controlled Congress came to hitting.

Peach Prices Are Slightly Under Those of Year Ago

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Peaches by carload and truckload, bringing to their growers prices only slightly under those of a year ago, are rolling into New York and other eastern markets as the fruit harvest moves northward.

Quality and size of the fruit is very good this year, the local office of the U. S. Department of Agriculture said.

The slight decline in price from the 1946 range results from less buying by canners, and not from heavier shipments, market sources said. Canners last year were building up their inventories and today have goods on grocers' shelves.

Starting in May with Georgia shipments, the nation's peach harvest is now in full swing.

Naval Pilot Clocks 640 Mile Mark

Commander Caldwell Gives Navy First Speed Record Since 1923

Used Skystreak Speed Mark Was Set in Douglas Jet-Motor Craft

Muroc, Calif., Aug. 21 (AP)—A slim, wiry naval pilot flying a trim, sub-winged experimental airplane today held the International Speed Record after having bulleted four times over a three-kilometer (1.863 mile) course at an average of 640.7 miles an hour.

The mark was set with a Douglas built jet-propelled Skystreak D-58, flown by Commander Turner Foster Caldwell, Jr., 33, of Arlington, Va., a former Pacific combat pilot. After traveling at a higher speed than man had yet attained, he shrugged his trim shoulders and said:

"This was a great relief from the paper work I've been doing in Washington. It's a great day and a great ship."

The navy pilot beat the former world mark which had been set last June 19 by an army man, Col. Albert Boyd, who flew the same craft, including yesterday's 623.8 miles an hour in a Lockheed P-80-R jet plane. Boyd's flight had broken the British-held record of 616 miles per hour set by a Gloster Meteor IV plane in 1946.

Commander Caldwell, since relief from his combat duties, has been serving as assistant chief of the fighter design branch, piloted aircraft division, Bureau of Aeronautics in Washington. He indicated that a Washington swivel chair rather than a pilot's seat had become a little monotonous in late months.

Fastest Time 55.4
The tiny plane, with a wingspan of 25 feet and length of 35 feet, made four passes over the three-kilometer course, and the fastest time was recorded at 65.4 miles an hour. The times for the other three passes were not at once announced. In fact it took navy and army technicians the entire day to calibrate the records for the flight.

Caldwell took off on his record-breaking attempt at 8:58 a. m. (P.S.T.) and the results were not announced until about 7:30 p. m.

In all, Caldwell has logged both three hours in the record-breaking craft, including yesterday's flight, which was his sixth in that plane. He has approximately 3,000 hours in the air, including the various scout and fighter missions he flew during World War II.

Prizes Air Cooperation
Commander Caldwell said the flight would have been "almost impossible" without the cooperation of the Army Air Forces, which lent its timing devices and technicians to the navy for timing the flight. The times were recorded by H. Dudley Wright of the National Aeronautics Association who will send them to the Fédération Aéronautique Internationale in France for official recognition.

Caldwell, who was born in Marblehead, Pa., and is the son of Capt. Turner Foster Caldwell, Sr., U.S.N. Ret., said he made the turn at the end of his four runs as short as possible to conserve his fuel supply of 214 gallons of kerosene, barely enough for the passes.

He made his runs at approximately 75 feet off the ground, following a black stripe on the air strip and setting his course by marking each end of the runway.

5,000 Persons See Exhibits at Fair

More Than $7,000 Prizes Are Awarded in Varied Events

An estimated 5,000 persons, undaunted by threatening showers, braved yesterday morning's rain-fall and the afternoon sun as they crowded into Forsyth Park to witness the annual Ulster County Fair and Farmers' Field Day where hundreds of exhibits were displayed by various units of the Ulster County Farm Bureau, Home Bureau and 4-H Clubs. The above figure was released this morning by the County Farm Bureau officials.

This year's event set a precedent in chartering records for entries with far more items displayed than ever before. More than $7,000 in cash prizes were awarded winners in the various classes, and hundreds of first, second and third prize ribbons were presented to the contestants participating for high honors in the different divisions.

The large number of entries is attested to by the fact that the various county agencies promoting the event have been working all morning organizing their lists of contest winners. The 4-H Department, swamped with entries, this year, will not be able to release official contest winners until tomorrow. Premiums in all departments will be paid in November.

Departments comprising yesterday's fair event consisted of horse exhibits, cattle, fruits and vegetables, grange and educational, 4-H Club activities, homemaking and various sections sponsored by local merchants and producers.

In the class of Ford Gliders, West Hurley, was given high honors by the judges, with Harry Elliot, Marbletown, taking second place.

Singles, 1,600 pounds and over, were exhibited by Frank Waters, Kingston, who was ruled as the first prize winner, and Oliver Davis, Stone Ridge, took the first prize in the team class (3,200 pounds and over), followed by Arthur Umbay, Phoenicia, and Frank Waters, Kingston, who topped the third place.

Showing a team of horses under 3,200 pounds, John Saxe, West Hurley, was given high honors by the judges, with Harry Elliot, Marbletown, taking second place.

Stock Horses Shown
Stock horses, shown in Western bridles and saddles, and judged for their handiness in quick starting and stopping and neck reining, drew many spectators. In this class Ford Gliders, Kingston, paced the winners, followed by Aubrey Roosa, Lake Katrine, Virgil B. Van Wageningen, Bearsville, and Kenner Post, Kingston, finishing in that order.

Herold C. VanVliet, Kingston, nosed out Dr. Paul Perlman, Woodstock, in the saddle horse class.

Alfred Perro Took Hold of Guy Wire. Quinn Says: on Wet Ground

Alfred Perro, Kerhonkson, a lineman employed by a construction job for the New York State Electric and Gas Company, a mile west of Phoenicia suffered severe burns to his hands and severe shock early this morning when he came in contact with wires which were reported to have been carrying several thousand volts.

Perro was attended at the scene by Dr. Charles A. Quinn of Phoenicia and brought to the Kingston Hospital by the Brethaupt Ambulance Service and put under the care of Dr. Fred S. Carr of this city. His condition was reported to be "fairly good" later today.

State Police were notified of the accident and Trooper Raymond Dunn of Phoenicia was summoned. Exactly how the accident happened could not be ascertained, since Mr. Perro's condition precluded questioning before being removed to the hospital.

Dr. Quinn stated that the man had alighted from a truck which had buckled up to a pole and guy wire and that Perro had apparently taken hold of the guy wire and the rick of the car. For some reason, a heavy charge passed through his body. The ground upon which he was standing at the time was said to have been wet. At the scene it was stated, he said, that Perro was working for a contracting firm doing work for the power company.

Special Powers to Hit Reds
Santiago, Chile, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Chamber of Deputies approved, 82 to 29, early today a law granting the government extraordinary powers, including suspension of individual liberties and seizure of essential industries, to cope with Communist "illegal strikes." President Gabriel González Videla told the legislature the "plan of action of the extremist groups is to promote, stimulate and maintain partial strikes to lead into a general strike, placing the stability of the government in danger."

In the case of Korea, Foreign Minister Molotov thus far has failed even to acknowledge Secretary of State Marshall's proposal for a re-examination of the deadlocked efforts to set up a unified government for that country.

Motorists Are Urged To Fill Out Cards

The cooperation of local car owners in filling out white cards bearing questions pertinent to the traffic survey conducted in the city today, was asked this morning by Daniel W. Brown, senior civil engineer in charge.

Study of data compiled as a result of the survey, the engineer said, will result in the designation of arterial routes through the city and a relief of traffic congestion in the future.

Full cooperation of the public may mean new state-built or reconstructed routes through the city.

Contracts Renewed With 4 Concerns

New First-Time Agreement Signed by Cornwall Steel Company

George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent for the Kingston Metal Trades Council, today announced that the Council had renewed its contracts with the Hiltbrant Dry Dock Company, Island Dock, Inc., Reliance Marine Transport and Construction Company and the Rondout Shipyards for another year beginning August 21, 1947.

The contract has been renewed under the same terms and conditions and the closed shop is maintained. The contract was renewed as a result of a meeting held between the shipyard workers and the company representatives.

An agreement was also signed Wednesday for the first time with the Newton Iron and Steel Company of Cornwall-on-Hudson which also provides for a closed shop.

Mr. Yerry said this company, which employs several Kingston men, is engaged in demolishing warships which are being disposed of for scrap. At present the company is demolishing old destroyers, cruisers and other craft for the scrap and expects to have work

Main Lines Of Traffic Surveyed

Direction and Location of Chief 'Through' Routes Are to Be Determined

Will Take Time

Data Probably Will Be Announced by State in Year or So

Possible changes in the city's arterial routes and whatever construction work is required in the widening and extension of local streets by the New York State Department of Public Works will probably start within another two years, an official on the traffic survey here said today.

Blue windshield tickets were prevalent throughout the city this morning within an hour after the survey workers began stopping cars at various stations in the city at 7 a. m. today.

The survey, under direction of Daniel W. Brown, senior civil engineer in charge, is conducted by the Bureau of Arterial Route Planning, State Department of Public Works, and will determine the direction and location of main "through" routes in the city.

Findings following studies of the data collected, will probably not be announced before another year or 18 months, the official said, and such state construction projects as required will not start for several months after changes in routes are suggested.

Extension and widening of certain streets along a suggested route alignment are likely to be recommended, the official said, and it is possible also that new streets or highways may be constructed if it is found that they are required to facilitate the flow of arterial traffic through the city.

State to Bear Costs
Full cost of construction along routes decided upon in the city will be borne by the state, the engineer said, but the city will pay one-half the cost of purchasing such rights-of-way as may be required.

The state figures that the width of an arterial route should be 64 feet, but it is forced to compromise on this in many communities, according to the official.

If it were found, however, that a new route, such as the extension of Broadway from the many avenue over the lowlands toward a main route connection beyond the city, were necessary, the width of such a new street would be the standard 64 feet.

This type of arterial route has been talked of locally and unofficially, and another suggested is the extension of North Front street from Clinton avenue to Manor avenue or possibly beyond there to join 9-W with a shuttle to the proposed Thruway.

The general state policy is to use all established main routes in a city to such an extent as possible in the plan to eliminate congestion and speed up through traffic. It will eliminate bottle necks and other conditions which hamper travel wherever the cost is not prohibitive.

Such projects as the elimination, and proposed bridge over the Hudson river from the city to Rhinecliff, and the new state thruway will be considered by the state public works department when it makes recommendations locally.

Projects recommended through findings of the origin and destination survey have already been authorized at Rhinecliff, the first city in the state to begin its program of arterial routes, the engineer revealed.

The first survey in the state was made at Buffalo and work on projects found necessary in that city are expected to be started there in the near future.

Only about half of the remaining cities in the state were expected to be surveyed this year at the outset of the program, but it was found necessary after certain conditions developed to finish the surveys in all cities of the state this year.

Vast Reports Accumulated
This means the accumulation of vast reports and detailed data which will take considerable time for study before the state can authorize the starting of projects.

July Tax Over 6 Million

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 21 (AP)—Pennsylvania's taxes on soft drinks, cigarettes and beer brought in $6,350,000 in July with returns from the new levy on bottled and fountain drinks climbing sharply. The State Revenue Department reported the penny tax on every 12 ounces of bottled drinks and a half cent on every ounce of syrup brought in $1,621,000 in July against nominal returns of only $363,000 for June, the first month it was effective. The doubled levy on cigarettes—it was boosted from two to four cents a package—raised $2,751,000 or $500,000 more than in June while the tax on malt beverages, also doubled by the 1947 Legislature, brought in another $2,948,000.

Rent Law Enforced

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—New York city's new hotel rent control law has survived the first court test on its legality. Municipal

Court Justice Walter Adickes yesterday granted a motion by the Temporary City Housing Rent Commission for dismissal of a hotel owner's petition for eviction of a tenant on the ground that the landlord failed to give notice, to the commission. Aaron Kahan, owner of the Grand Union Hotel, had instituted the eviction proceedings after a tenant ignored a 30-day eviction notice.

1,800 Cease Work

Baltimore, Aug. 21 (AP)—A curtailment of production because of a steel shortage today put 1,800 Baltimore employees of General Motors out of work, W. B. M.

Yugoslav Macedonia Goes For Youth and Modernism

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Skopje, Yugoslavia (AP)—In Macedonia's new republic, believe it or not, the most popular foreign song is "Chattanooga Choo-Choo." The president of Macedonia, one of the six republics which make up federative Yugoslavia, is only 33. His name is Slavko Koshovsk—his face is lean, thoughtful and dark-browed. The stark, grey mountains here have been bathed in blood for centuries. Yet the peasants are innately friendly and will share their last ear of corn with a hungry stranger. Electric dynamos hum in the towns. Primitive water wheels grind slowly in the villages. Shepherds tending their flocks in Biblical simplicity gaze with awe at passing jeeps.

In Skopje, the capital, the dominant hill is covered with the teetering stone slabs of a Moslem cemetery. In the 400-year-old Mosque of Gazi Isa Beg, Dervishes slash their arms with swords at the climax of religious fervor. But Christians are attuned to a rare tolerance. A man may worship in a peace that his forefathers never enjoyed.

Has Become Show-Piece
Macedonia has become a show-piece of Marshal Tito's statesmanship.

What is Macedonia? The map reveals it as the southern salient of the new federated Yugoslavia, bounded on the west by Albania, the south by Greece, and the east by Bulgaria. Before Tito, it went under the name of "South Serbia."

According to the racial origin of populations, Macedonia may be said to extend into neighboring countries. But Macedonians, regardless of what flag they live under, are weary of war.

Ask the Macedonian in the street and he will say he covets no foreign-ruled land. He is a conscientious objector to starting another fire in the Balkan powder keg.

Any census has yet been taken by the republic, created in 1944 when German and Bulgarian occupiers were driven out. The population, however, is officially estimated at 950,000. Albanian and Turkish Moslems are a minority of 300,000. The big majority is orthodox Slav.

Many of the mountains are ghostly bare, after hundreds of years of grazing by sheep and goats, and Macedonians admit the crying need for reforestation. The sun-baked valleys are fertile. Tobacco flourishes and corn grows high.

Illiteracy Wanes
One of every two adults does not know how to read or write. But schools are being doubled in number during the course of a five-year plan. Fifty-five thousand persons are reported to have emerged from illiteracy in the past 18 months.

Macedonian is perhaps the softest and most musical of south Slav tongues. Until 1944, children here could neither study the language nor the history of their people in state educational institutions.

It's different now. Tito's wartime edict that each of the peoples in his National Army of Liberation was entitled to its own folk ways has been faithfully carried out. Albanians and Turks have their own schools, too.

The accent is on youth in government. Virtually all cabinet ministers are in their 30's. President Koshovsk, who once clerked in a retail store, is among the youngest.

Just before the war, he had risen to foreman in a government munitions plant and leadership of a trade union. The Germans arrested him in 1941.

Escaping, Koshovsk recruited Partisans for a bitter campaign. When he was recaptured, a Bulgarian court-martial sentenced him to hang. Public unrest over his fate persuaded the Bulgarians to commute his punishment to life imprisonment. Bulgarian revolutionaries freed him in September, 1944.

He married a girl who had been an ardent reformist in her university days. She joined Tito's national movement and the couple moved to Yugoslavia in 1941. Now she is a member of Parliament for both Macedonia and Yugoslavia. They have one child.

Macedonians are not quite sure how "Chattanooga Choo-Choo" rolled into their musical repertoire, but it has a definite acceptance. Other old hits from Tin Pan Alley are also heard at public dances. No dance, however, is complete without at least one rendition of the Slavic "Kola," in which everybody joins hands in a rhythmic serpentine.

Boxing is catching on as a sport. This correspondent attended the third boxing program in the history of Macedonia. All participants were amateurs, who received no prize more than applause. Each match was two fast rounds in a shaky wooden ring minus any padding of ropes or floor. In eight fights, not one foul blow was struck.

Nicholas Fostic of New York spent the week-end with his family at their home here.

Lewis Jayne and son, Frank, were business callers in Newburgh Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gladding and daughter of Roosevelt, L. I., were last week guests of Mr. Gladding's uncle, John Ostrander.

During the severe electric storm Saturday evening the chimney of the home of Miss Nellie Clinton was struck but no fire resulted.

Miss Elizabeth Donahue has returned home after attending the summer session at Penn State College. En route home she visited Mr. and Mrs. John Coffey and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Riche have announced the birth of a daughter at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh.

The Rev. Robert G. Dickson will conduct the services at the Gardiner Reformed Church Sunday. All are cordially invited. The consistory of the church is sponsoring an auction Friday evening, August 29. Donations may be brought to the church hall from August 25 to 28 or may be brought on the night of the sale. Such articles as clocks, radios, musical instruments, lamps, furniture, porch or lawn chairs, book cases, toys, candle sticks or other antiques, fruit, vegetables, baked goods, preserves and canned goods are asked for. Oscar Jansen will be the auctioneer and the consistory will have refreshments available. The public is invited.

Fish Fights

Fish fights are a favorite form of amusement in Thailand, and fortunes are won and lost in betting on the outcome. The battles are only a little more than an inch long.

Lovely Sight, Isn't It?

But it's not snow, and it doesn't offer much relief from the heat wave for these three Chicagoans. The white, fluffy stuff blanketing this street is nothing but soap suds that backed up from a clogged sewer. Trying to make "soap balls" are, left to right, Alice Fisher, Claudia Hemel, and Charlotte McAllister.

Birds vs. Insects

Swallows have about five square inches of wingspread per pound of weight, while storks have only about 122 square inches. Insects have much larger wings in proportion to their body weight than birds.

WORLD SCOUTS

From Molson, France, where the World Scout Jamboree is being held, comes word that Slav Scouts from Czechoslovakia have been surprised to find themselves warmly welcomed by their fellow-scouts of other nations.

Feeling the acute sense of nationalism which seems natural in Europeans, these boys have found, as one of their number expressed it, that "here, nations just don't matter. It's a higher unity, between human beings, not countries."

Boy Scout organizations, like fraternal and religious orders, were wiped out during and even for a time before the war by the Nazis and by Russian occupation forces, but one of the most successful aspects of the Allied Military Government has been the revival of Scouting. This has been part of the movement to rehabilitate German youth. Boy Scouts have sprung up again in countries like Czechoslovakia which are prosperous enough to have time and energy for such things.

It would be a fine thing if the Boy Scouts, who have been taught this higher unity, had anything to say in the councils of their respective nations. Wars are decided upon by older and supposedly wiser heads. But the day of those boys who have learned, better things will come.

WOMEN WHO RAN

Will a woman run for president in 1948 or any election in the near future? Just now no one seems in the least likely to do so.

Any woman who should, would not, if beaten, have the consolation of being the first of her sex to make the attempt. Not one but two have run for president in times past. In 1872 Victoria Woodhull, a campaigner for the equality of women before the law, received the nomination of the Equal Rights party. This was a purely nominal honor; the party did not get on the ballots, and she is not known to have received any votes. Miss Woodhull had a stormy life, which ended as late as 1927.

In 1884 and 1888 the Equal Rights party nominated another worker for women's political freedom, Belva Lockwood, who in 1879 had the distinction of being the first woman admitted to practice before the Supreme Court. This was another ineffective honor; Mrs. Lockwood tried to vote in California, and was refused. She does not appear to have received any votes for president, either. Some day a woman will run, will get votes, and will make it an interesting race.

DEFEATED GERMANY

Forever scotched the possibility of any legend developing about an "unconquerable" German army in World War II. According to information recently made public in London from captured German archives, the German military machine had completely deteriorated early in 1945. These papers record conferences between Hitler and his staff. They show him as harassed to the point of incompetence as a leader. He still persisted in a hope for victory through manpower and fuel shortages made defeat inevitable.

The Germans gained much comfort as well as courage to begin a second war from the carefully nourished idea that their Wehrmacht remained undefeated despite the armistice of 1918. No such wishful thinking of rosy backward glances can have any substance this time. It is important that as wide circulation as possible be given to the factual records in those invaluable German reports. Their evidence should be made available in every zone of Germany.

CONTEMPT OF CONGRESS

The essence of Statism is government by bureaucracy. An elite group, having possessed itself of power by one means or another, governs according to its will and its judgment on the general principle, that those who are qualified know what is best for everybody. They set up their own qualifications and declare themselves as fitting all requirements. They have no doubts as to their own perfection.

Essentially, this concept is not new. Pythagoras and Plato held it and every so-called benevolent despot assumed it. Dr. Sun Yat-sen, for instance, conceived of the Kuomintang as holding the Chinese people in tutelage until such a time as they could govern themselves. Such a time has not yet arrived 22 years after his death. The Communist party in Russia maintains an oligarchical despotism with the object of eventually establishing a democracy. Even in the United States, many of the younger New Dealers, particularly those fresh out of college, where they majored in government, believed that they were more qualified, by a Phi Beta Kappa key, or something, to decide the course of their country than were members of Congress elected by the people.

Yet, the essence of the American system is representative government. Those who wrote the Constitution made no rigid qualifications as to the representatives. They could be lawyers, doctors, clergymen, shoemakers, philosophers, prohibitionists, drunkards. They might be experts in government or not able to read or write. They might be broad-minded or bigoted; they could be of any political party, religious denomination, social condition or economic status. The Constitution avoids such qualifications because the objective of the system is that the people shall choose such representatives for themselves as they please.

During the past decade, a pronounced and determined effort has been made to heap ridicule upon the Congress of the United States and to bring it into contempt. The general technique is to generalize from the particular, to select some grotesque or unpopular member, one whose personal conduct lends itself to abuse, burlesque and ridicule, to heap upon him mountains of abuse, and then to attempt to create the impression that the Congress is no good because it is all like that. Many, who are opposed to totalitarianism, have fallen for this technique and have permitted themselves to become parties to it. Vested interests in danger seize upon this propaganda to aid their special purposes.

I, myself, have roared with laughter at "Senator Claghorn" on the radio. Admittedly, he is funny. But Claghorn, as a theatrical character, has brought upon Congress an unwarranted ridicule. Never once has Claghorn been anything but ridiculous; never once has he been kindly, understanding, of service to his country. He has been an unmitigated blowhard instead of a hard-working legislator with a tendency to speak loudly and punctate aggressively. He has talked stupidly, but never is he the author of important legislation. Claghorn is not a cartoon of any man in the United States Senate; he is a caricature of the legislative process.

This ridicule of Congress reached its apex in the Barkey-Dennis-Eisler hearings. These men held a Committee of Congress in contempt because they objected to one member of it. In a word, not the citizens in their districts are to determine who is to represent them, but a group of New Yorkers are to decide who is to serve, and if the American people are to differ, they are to be ignored. Congress when it rejects their obiter dicta. Similarly in the Howard Hughes matter, capitalistic public relations counsel turned what should have been an orderly hearing into a raucous circus, packing the committee halls, giving out teasing stories unrelated to committee intentions. It may have been a snarl, but it was contemptuous, and who makes it even more unfortunate, they knew of what they did. For the boomerang is obvious: an investigation into how such operations are arranged, organized and paid for. This must come, sooner or later.

The point is that Congress must be protected and preserved. It is the most orderly system of government in which a human freedom is possible. It is costly and wasteful of time—but we are not slaves. That is the point.

That Body of Yours

URTICARIA—HIVES

You are hearing and reading about the new drug, benadryl, in the treatment of hay fever and asthma. As these two ailments are caused, in majority of cases, by allergy—sensitivity to various substances such as grasses, weeds, foods, furs, feathers—and as urticaria (hives) is also caused by allergy, it was only natural that benadryl should be tried in acute and chronic urticaria or hives as it is called.

Most of us think of hives as just a passing or temporary inconvenience due to itching but when this condition continues for days and weeks and even longer, then, despite relief from various applications, it can be "wearing" on the nerves and affect the general health of the individual.

In "Archives of Skin Diseases and Syphilis," Dr. F. W. Lynch, Director of Minnesota reports on the use of benadryl in 90 patients; 33 had urticaria and the remainder had a variety of skin diseases or ailments. Ten of the urticaria cases were acute (recent) and there was recovery in nine of them, but it was admitted that equally good results might have been obtained by rest, simple applications and quieting drugs as with benadryl.

However, as chronic or contagious urticaria is often difficult to cure, the use of benadryl in these cases was a better test of its ability to give relief. The 23 patients with chronic urticaria were divided into two groups: Those whose skin eruptions had been present from one to seven months, and those who had suffered for a year or more. Of the first group of 10 cases, 8 were completely relieved. In the second group (symptoms present more than a year), 11 of 13 received satisfactory relief. In the third group, benadryl only was responsible for these satisfactory results was shown by the fact that when benadryl was stopped the urticaria returned, to disappear again when benadryl was given.

In most cases the original or beginning dose was 50 mgm. six times daily, the greatest amount given in one day being 400 mgm., the dosage being reduced as rapidly as relief was obtained, usually remaining at 50 mgm. to 150 mgm. daily for a prolonged period in chronic urticaria.

Send today for Dr. Barton's helpful booklet entitled "Allergy," which means being allergic or sensitive to various foods and other substances. Just enclose 10 cents and a 3-cent stamp, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 90, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. England. His legal career included the position of advocate of the Bombay high court, and membership in the imperial legislative council. His early zeal for an independent India developed with the passage of time into what became a life project—the establishment of separate Hindu and Moslem states.

Pakistan is fortunate to be launched under such favorable auspices. With Jinnah's leadership the many problems contingent on the division and independence of India should not be impossible of solution.

Yeh, We're Fed Up With Rabbit

AS PEGLER SEES IT So They Say...

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Aug. 20.—All I mean to say about baseball in the low minors, where they travel by bus and live as high as they can on $250 a day on the road, is that they give the customers just as much for a dollar as the major leagues do. Just as much baseball, but not just the same. The low minors give you a lot of offense and just enough defensive skill to get the side out before tomorrow.

Jim Bynon, an outfielder of the Bisbee Tanks, of the Arizona League, recently hit in 34 consecutive games. In 148 times at bat in that stretch, he got 48 hits, 22 of them for extra bases, and drove in 35 runs. At last, coming to bat in the 11th inning for the seventh time in the game, he was a third out, while another fellow named Tucuman, a pitcher, was a third out. Tucuman was running up a string himself. The last time I heard a call on Kranda, he had hit 28 consecutive games.

To be sure, the pitching is low minor, but still they have their 3 to 2 games and an occasional tight shutout. Practically always a three-out game, a sacrifice, an error, and a hit-batsman, gave the Tucson Cowboys a 14-10 verdict over the Phoenix Senators here last night. Cactus Jack Carmichael won his sixth victory but he was hardly impressive, for he gave ten hits, walked the same number and fanned 13.

In the sixth 13 men hit for Tucson and from start to finish every man on the club got at least one hit except Mike Dejan, an outfielder, who was hit by the pitcher twice.

On July 19, the Bisbee Tanks beat El Paso, 33 to 10, and ten days later Tucson beat El Paso, 23 to 5. There were 53 hits in the first of these games and 31 in the other. At the second game, Mrs. Fred Heide, of 2222 East Second street, Tucson, won a $100 door prize. This happy event adorned a pleasant social custom of the Arizona League.

A recent fight in Bisbee Whitehead and Collier donated a pressure cooker; Phillips Brothers gave a set of matched table lamps and the Phelps-Dodge Mercantile Co. put up an electrical thing that cooks a whole meal at once. For this purpose, night is sold "nile." F. D. Mowbray is that ancient and detested institution, the company store, in Bisbee run by the Copper Company. Nobody has to buy there, but some times, by the size of the crowds you would think trading was compulsory, as at the old Delano Company store in the Pennsylvania fields, run by the you-know family. One night in Bisbee was "Douglas Night," or "nite," when the beauty and chivalry of Douglas, far across the flat where the smelter is, came over in a "motorcade" and some Mexican clientele from Agua Prieta, too. Some of us remember when Agua Prieta was the darling of a noisy little battle in one of the Mexican revolutions. It has just across the street from Douglas and some of the bullets slipped, causing unrest on our side. Outside the little town, which contained some of the most mournful-looking brothers in the history of sin during our recent war, there are still a few little wooden crosses, bending lower and lower with the years, honoring Mexican soldiers, known but to God, but probably illiterate desperados, at that.

In that game which Bisbee won from El Paso, 33 to 10, Mr. Lynon was unable to play, having a bad ankle, so a pitcher named Charlie Pickett took his place in the outfield and hit a homer and a double and drove in four. The next day Mr. Pickett was sent to Fond

Taft-Hartley Act Will Rid Unions of Communist Officers; A.F.L. Raid Upon C.I.O. Expected

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 21.—What has not complied with that requirement will have no standing in court when it complains that an employer has coerced or unduly influenced workers in the matter of joining a union or has committed any of the "unfair labor practices" enumerated in the original Wagner law and now reaffirmed in the Taft-Hartley Act. It cannot get its case heard by the Labor Board—which is the prescribed method of getting access to the courts—when there is no compliance with the law's requirement about Communist officers.

There has been some loose talk about unions "snubbing" or avoiding the National Labor Relations Board. This hardly seems likely, because the board affords the maximum protection to a union to retain its rights. If a union loses its majority, it cannot lose its certification as the bargaining agent except by an election held at specified times, but an employer who chose to deal with a new bargaining agent among his employees would be free to do so at any time if the union had the original certification from the board. It is difficult to see how the C.I.O., which has some unions with Communist officers, can afford to stick by the Communist officers. Clearly the A.F.L. and various independent unions can raid the C.I.O. ranks for new members and get certification from the National Labor Relations Board. It appears doubtful that the C.I.O. will resist that kind of invasion very long, despite all the talk about not using the National Labor Relations Board services. The statute has a very simple requirement.

"No complaint shall be issued pursuant to a charge made by a labor organization... unless there is on file with the board an affidavit executed contemporaneously or within the preceding 12 months by the officer of such labor organization and the officers of any national or international labor organization of which it is an affiliate or constituent unit that he is not a member of the Communist party or affiliated with such party, and that he is not a member of any organization that believes in or teaches the overthrow of the United States government by force or by illegal or unconstitutional methods."

This means that a union which has not complied with that requirement will have no standing in court when it complains that an employer has coerced or unduly influenced workers in the matter of joining a union or has committed any of the "unfair labor practices" enumerated in the original Wagner law and now reaffirmed in the Taft-Hartley Act. It cannot get its case heard by the Labor Board—which is the prescribed method of getting access to the courts—when there is no compliance with the law's requirement about Communist officers.

Questions—Answers

Q—In English peerage, what is the distinction between a knight and a baron?

A—When you are knighted by the King of England, you are given the title of "Sir" for your lifetime only, but when you are made a baronet you can pass the title down to your eldest son.

Q—Does Congress establish our national holidays?

A—Congress only declares national holidays for the District of Columbia and our island possessions. Holidays which have become national are the result of laws passed by the legislatures of the several states.

Q—Who first introduced ice cream in the United States?

A—Dolly Madison first introduced ice cream to the United States at a White House dinner in 1809. Although ice cream is now considered an American dish, it was known in Italy, France, and England at an early date.

Q—How far can a penguin fly?

A—A penguin is a flightless aquatic bird.

Q—Is all federal property tax-exempt?

A—Federal property is tax-exempt. The government does allow taxation of property owned by federal corporations, however.

Big Future Ahead For Local Tractor Firm Is Forecast

The Kingston-made Gardena tractor produced by the Eastern Tractor Manufacturing Corp., is expected to move along in production volume under impetus of a nationwide growth in the industry, according to recent estimates and forecasts for the future.

A report on the industry showed that from a beginning of 10,000 tractors a year prior to the war, sales in the garden tractor industry soared to more than 100,000 tractors with related implements. This represents a business volume of $22,000,000 in 1946 and sales figures to date this year point to a higher year ahead.

The industry is favored with a trend to make the tractors less cumbersome and the weight range is from 200 to 800 pounds, with one-and-a-half to five horse power engines.

Gardena has shared an impressive share of the industry growth in the past year, reported, and the plant now employs approximately 100 workers.

The product has been shipped to every state in the union and to Mexico, Colombia, Panama, Venezuela, Brazil, Uruguay, Paraguay, Argentina, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, France, Belgium, Switzerland, Union of South Africa, Rhodesia, India and China.

U. S. Makes Protest

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—A new United States protest to Russia against the continued Soviet occupation of the Chinese port of Dairen was disclosed today by the State Department. A note delivered to Moscow August 14 said that this government "will of necessity hold the Soviet Government responsible" for treatment accorded American interests in the port city while it is under Red Army rule. Under a 1945 treaty, Dairen was to be returned to Chinese administration and opened to world trade. Russia, however, has banned from the port all foreign shipping, including American naval vessels taking mail and supplies to the U. S. consul general there.

Attends Convention

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy is attending the convention of the International Association of Fire Chiefs in New York city, it was announced today at Central Fire Station. The chiefs were scheduled to attend special demonstrations of modern methods of fire fighting in Madison Square Garden. The headquarters of the convention is Hotel Pennsylvania.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Selected stocks exhibited mild recovery tendencies today although many market leaders continued to falter.

Some quick-turn buying and short covering were attributed to the thought three straight declining sessions entitled the list to a technical comeback. Wall Street skeptics regarding business and world economics, however, were plentiful. These either held aloof or trimmed accounts. Enthusiasm over the latest twist in the Anglo-American loan pact was lacking inasmuch as the suspension of sterling convertibility was viewed as a possibly further threat to United States exports.

Dealings were relatively quiet after a fairly active opening and moderate irregularity prevailed near the fourth hour. A number of good dividends and earnings virtually were ignored.

Occasional gainers included Yonkers, Sheet & Steel, Goodyear, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Western Union, Woolworth, International Harvester, American Telephone, American Can, Dow Chemical, American Machine & Foundry and Gaylord Container.

Stumblers now and then were General Motors, Goodrich, United Aircraft, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, American Smelting, Roan Antelope (one sizable block), Westinghouse, General Electric, J. C. Penney, J. I. Case and Deere. Numerous pivots were unchanged.

Gay Fabric Sealed Behind Plastic Makes Decorative Eyeglass Frames

By EUSIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer

Newest novelty to turn functional eyeglasses into shields of gay intrigue is a decorative frame which may be matched (but literally) to a girl's costume.

This whimsy is made possible by modern methods of lamination. Fabrics, imprisoned between sheets of crystal-clear Lucite, brighten the appearance of both sunglasses and corrective specs.

New sunglasses, for instance, are framed in red and white striped jersey, as shown left above. The fabric is snugly sandwiched in and kept safe from soil and moisture by the Lucite that seals it into the sunglass frame. The sweater, modeled is proof of what can be done to match clothes and specs.

Corrective glasses take a new lease on glamor, too. The specs, shown right above, are edged in black lace, laminated between sheets of Lucite and matched to the female fatale evening gown and mantilla which the model wears.

Twinkling sequins, gold fringe and metallic cloth also gleam behind plastic in the new parade of eyeglass frames.

Peach Prices

crop flows to the markets and the canneries. South Carolina which a week or two ago was shipping from 500 to 600 cars a day into this area now is sending only 25 or 30 daily to New York, and the market has been taken over by the New Jersey crop. Next week Pennsylvania peaches will appear and after Labor Day the New York state variety will be plentiful.

The Agriculture Department said this week's supply was fairly plentiful, but rain had delayed picking and packing in Virginia. It looked for heavy shipments Monday because of this and the long week-end.

The government crop report August 21 estimated the year's peach crop at 86,783,000 bushels, compared with production of 86,643,000 last year and a ten-year average of 62,936,000.

Holstein Entries Are 136 for Year's Fair at Rhinebeck

Rhinebeck, Aug. 21.—The record entry of 136 Holsteins in the cattle show at the Dutchess County Fair this year has forced the fair management to provide additional housing space for this breed. It was announced in Rhinebeck this week. Wilson & Eaton Co., of America have made available to the fair association a Quonset type building, now being erected, and expected to be used for quartering the Holsteins.

In addition to the Holstein entry, present totals indicate that 74 Guernseys will be shown and 100 Aberdeen Angus. Totals on Jersey entries are still incomplete.

Judging will be done in a large tent seating approximately 500 spectators and equipped with a public address system through which the judges have been instructed to explain the reasons for their placement of cattle. It is the feeling of the fair directors that all departments should stress the educational side of their exhibits, and that who gets the individual trophies is and should be subordinate to the instructional value of explained judging.

Cattle judging will begin on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock with Joseph P. Broadhurst, manager of the Locust Grove Dairies, Westville, N. Y., selecting the winning Guernsey. On Wednesday the Holsteins will pass in review before Dr. C. M. Cairns of the University of Maryland in College Park. Thursday brings the Aberdeen Angus show, with the stocky black heaves receiving their honors. Judge John Brown of Rose Hill, Iowa, and Friday completes the cattle judging with Ronald Bree of Meriden Farms, Meriden, evaluating the Jersey merits.

I SAY WHAT I THINK

by Bill Helpar

SHOES & CHANGE—Let's talk about shoes. Ladies' shoes, the kind that have heels so high they make you look like walking on stilts. To be sure, they look real pretty on shapely legs. But their beauty is a delusion. Did you ever notice what they do to your walk? These shoes make you step in a short, mincing way; your walk is jerky, without any spring. Walk in them for a while and you are tired all over and look it. Of course these shoes do help your looks—if you're standing still. But we admire your beauty as we see you in motion—not as you look in a photograph.

Fashion demands these high-heeled tormentors? What are fashions for, Lady, except to offer a chance for a change? If we want it? "Fashion demands"—that's ridiculous! Fashion should offer, but never demand. I like fashions. The best buying in the country strive to bring us things that are new, and more chic, and more glamorous. And gratify our wish for a change. Even if what we have now is perfect—constant perfection itself can get tiresome. But when fashion decrees something ugly, or unbecoming, or torturous—then I say it's spinach, and the hell with it!

There are so many things we can do to please our yen for a change. Wear your hair in a different manner, or paint the kitchen a heavenly blue. Or send your rugs to the carpet cleaners (there is a good one on 10th Street, Phone 5157-J)—you'll be happy when they come back with a new sparkle. Or reupholster the living room suite—it's probably a little drab, anyway, and getting shabby at the edges (ROTHBARD'S do a wonderful job on this, phone Kingston 4880-W). Or buy pretty shoes with sensible heels. Or have dresses of simple lines, in different colors to change with your mood. Or get someone to make the back porch a little larger—SCHRYVER'S, of Kingston and Rosendale, have now more lumber, and the prices are getting favorable again. While you are at it, have a few outlets right there on the porch, so that you can iron and sew, and have breakfast in your new Outdoor Space. You'll be sure to enjoy it! (Outdoor wiring wants special care: C. KENDALL VOGT, of Hurley, can do it right—phone 3944-M). —JAMES GALATIE, 594 Broadway, has wonderful combination screens for that back porch, or any room—call Kingston 372, and let him demonstrate—and if you are a little short on cash, phone "OK" McPARTLON, UP, STATE LOAN, 36 N. Front Street (Kingston 3164)—he'll be glad to help you out.

As I say, there are many ways to get out of a rut. But isn't it just a bit silly to spend money for things that are sometimes quite ugly, or even harmful. Just because we want a change, and "Fashion demands"?

Sponsors Church Program

Worcester, Mass.—A Worcester locomotive engineer swapped his cab for a pulpit to encourage other Protestant laymen to take an active part in church work.

Engineer Roy M. Wilder of the Boston and Albany Railroad shuttled between the Hadwen Park and Bethany Congregational Churches to preach on "logic and religion." "Laymen are like a locomotive engine," Wilder commented after the Sunday services.

"It takes both a lot of time to get up steam. Once they do, they have a lot of power."

Stalled Cold Air Means Heat Wave In Midwest Area

By The Associated Press
With all the Canadian cold air stalled at the U. S. boundary as though embargoed, the prolonged heat wave held most of the Midwest in a tighter grip today as temperatures began climbing back to 100 degrees or higher.

Another day of continued searing heat was forecast for virtually all the states between the Appalachians and Rockies. The Chicago weather bureau said the mercury would climb to between 96 and 102 degrees in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska. In South Dakota the maximum was expected to be 105, and in North Dakota, Iowa and Illinois as much as 100.

The New England and Middle Atlantic States were reported back to near normal readings along with the Pacific coast area. Except for scattered local thunderstorms of little consequence generally, the forecaster said no moisture was in sight for the withering crops now reported in some localities to have been written off as failures.

There is still a mass of cool air in western Canada but it has been derailed from its usually south-easterly course and has begun moving eastward. A shift of currents there is the only hope for immediate relief, the forecaster said.

Says Both Political Parties 'Dead as Dodos'

Chautauque, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)

—The executive director of the Home Missions Council of North America wants a third political party in this country because, he says, the existing parties "are both as dead as dodos."

Dr. Mark A. Dawber told an open forum of the Institute of World Missions yesterday that "most of these boys in Washington, Republicans and Democrats, are neither Christian nor statesmen."

"Both existing parties are the same," he declared. "They are both as dead as dodos. Neither has made any progress. A third party is the only choice being left for Christians."

Dr. Dawber advised churchmen and missionaries at the institute, which is sponsored by Protestant groups, that they had made the business of religion "too small, too circumscribed."

"Religion must permeate every element of our lives, including politics, and unless that happens, ten generations from now we will still be paying the price of bad government today," he said.

"Bad" Girl Makes Good—and How!

The mother of four-year-old Florence Roy, of Philadelphia, Pa., is thankful that the little girl was naughty. As punishment, she sent the youngster up to bed. In the bedroom Florence found her seven-month-old brother, Edward, had thrust his head between crib slats and was strangling. She screamed for her mother who dashed up stairs with some neighbors and rescued the blue-faced baby.

Breaks Tooth in Fall

Philadelphia, Aug. 21 (AP)—Doctors examined Louis W. Lewis, 34-year-old riveter, after he fell 25 feet from a scaffolding and found he had sustained only a broken tooth. Then Lewis did a little examining of his own and discovered that a pair of eye-glasses carried in his hip pocket were undamaged in the fall.

Two Men Die When Motorboats CollideAccident on Lake Placid Also Injures Daughter of Proskauer

Lake Placid, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—State Police were dragging Lake Placid today for the body of one of two men killed in a collision of two motorboats.

Max Gaines, 52, of White Plains, N. Y., and Samuel W. Irwin, 46, of Hawthorne, N. J., were killed yesterday when a Chris Craft in which they were riding and one driven by Mrs. Frances Cohn, daughter of former Supreme Court Justice Samuel Proskauer of New York, crashed. Gaines' body had not been recovered late last night.

Mrs. Cohn suffered lacerations of the forehead and was taken to Lake Placid General Hospital.

William Irwin, nine-year-old son of Irwin, a passenger in the boat, gave this description of the accident:

The craft owned and operated by Gaines was pacing two girl swimmers, Elaine Gaines, 20, daughter of the dead man, and Janet Lehigh, 20, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William L. Lehigh, of (7712 Bay Parkway) Brooklyn, when the craft owned by Proskauer and operated by his daughter struck it amidships and continued on over the Gaines boat.

Thrown Overboard
Gaines and Samuel Irwin were thrown overboard and the boy, seeing the impending crash, ducked down and escaped with a bump on the forehead.

A boat from a nearby boat livery picked up the two girl swimmers. Irwin's body was found entangled in the propeller of the Proskauer boat.

Gaines was president of Educational Comics Company, New York city, and Irwin was auditor for Armour & Co., at Paterson, N. J.

Police said they were unable to question Mrs. Cohn because of her condition.

Mrs. Pauline Soris of New York who was riding with Mrs. Cohn, was quoted by police as saying that she saw neither the girl swimmers nor the Gaines boat until she felt the crash. Mrs. Soris was uninjured.

The swimmers reported to police that Mrs. Cohn's boat, coming toward them, veered slightly to the right just before the collision. The Gaines boat had been circling about them, the girls said.

Magnetic Intensity Directs Flight of Homing Pigeons

Schenectady, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—A homing pigeon flies home by determining the magnetic intensity it feels when it passes through the earth's magnetic field, Professor Henry L. Yeagley, Pennsylvania State College scientist, says.

"An electric voltage results from flying through the magnetic field and the homing pigeon can detect this as well as the rate of the earth's surface turning under him as he flies," Yeagley said last night in a General Electric science forum broadcast over Station WGY.

"The magnitude of both of these is different at a location other than the bird's home," added Yeagley, who has been engaged in an experimental pigeon project at Penn State for the U. S. Army Signal Corps.

"When displaced from his home the pigeon need only fly in the direction which brings him more nearly to the magnetic intensity and earth turning rate he is used to and he will arrive at his home loft."

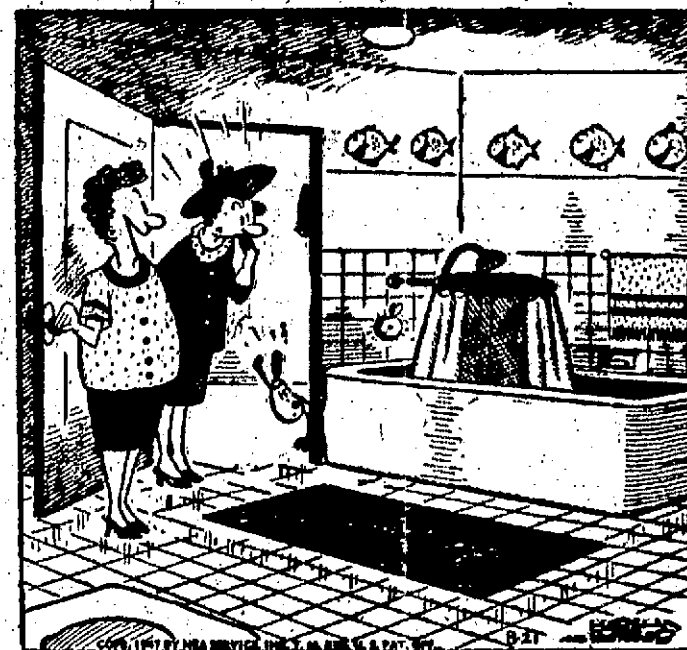

The professor said he believes the pigeon has a navigating instrument, but "as yet we have no direct proof."

There is a small, mound-like object at the end of the bird's optic nerve and "due to its location, sensitivity and structure, we believe it could be the organ for navigation," he declared.

Woman to Woman
BY MRS. FILBERT

KEEPING A FAMILY WELL FED is a woman's job, and goodness knows, I needn't tell you it isn't always simple! But I've been in the food business nearly 30 years and I think I've learned a few things that can make your task easier and more satisfying in many ways.

The good things sold under the Mrs. Filbert label are recipes I've worked out and perfected myself, using only the finest, most wholesome ingredients—just as you do in your own kitchen. I believe you'll find my mayonnaise, margarine and dressings extra enjoyable... with a really fresh, delicious, home-made taste. Won't you try them? I think you and your family will like Mrs. Filbert's as much as we do.

Here's a woman's idea of what good salad dressing should be—a man's idea of something grand! Mrs. Filbert's is real salad dressing, with a richness that makes a dab take the place of a spoonful. Its smooth, tangy freshness seems right off the egg-beater itself. Now more delicious than ever!

You'll prefer Mrs. Filbert's Margarine because it's different... fresher, sweeter-tasting, always the same in summer or winter. So nutritious and digestible... full of energy for the children—each pound contains 16,000 units of Vitamin A. Try it for cooking, frying, for lighter cakes and rolls, as a delicious spread on bread.

You don't know how good a simple lettuce or green Summer salad can taste until you try it with Mrs. Filbert's new French Dressing. Exportly blended and seasoned with just enough herbs and spices to give salads an added delightful taste, yet not smother natural flavors.

TUNA FISH SALAD

Made with Mrs. Filbert's Mayonnaise
1 can white tuna fish 1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup cooked peas Juice of half a lemon
1/2 cup minced stuffed olives
Salt and pepper to taste

Drain excess oil from tuna fish. Combine with other ingredients and mix thoroughly with Mrs. Filbert's delicious Mayonnaise. Garnish with stuffed olives and serve on crisp salad greens. Mrs. Filbert's real Mayonnaise tastes out—never smother—all the flavor in any kind of salad.

Here's How to Can Tomatoes

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Tomato time is here and tomatoes are the favorite among home-canned vegetables.

Tomatoes can be handled one of two ways in canning—packed either raw or hot into glass jars before processing. Recent experiments show that when they're packed raw, tomatoes hold color and shape better. There's one advantage in the hot-pack, however—more tomatoes can be put into each jar.

It's important to remember that if tomatoes are not heated sufficiently in canning, they won't keep in storage. The times recommended for processing tomatoes in the water-bath canner are based on the food being prepared and packed as indicated.

Only perfect, ripe tomatoes should be used. Dip them into boiling water for about half a minute, to loosen the skins—then dip quickly into cold water. Cut out the stem ends and peel.

Hot Pack
Quarter the peeled tomatoes; bring to boil, stirring often. Pack hot in hot glass jars to $\frac{1}{2}$ inch of top. Add $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt to pints; 1 teaspoon to quarts. Adjust jar lids. Process either pint or quart jars of tomatoes in boiling water bath 10 minutes. As soon as jars are removed from canner, complete seals if closures are not self-sealing type.

Cold Pack
Leave tomatoes whole, or cut in halves or quarters. Pack tomatoes to $\frac{1}{2}$ inch of top, pressing gently to fill spaces. Add no water. Add $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt to pints; 1 teaspoon to quarts. Adjust jar lids. Have water in canner hot but not boiling to prevent breakage. Heat to boiling. Process in boiling water bath—pint jars, 35 minutes; quart jars, 45 minutes. As soon as jars are removed from canner, complete seals if closures are not of self-sealing type.

TOMORROW'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Melon, French toast, jam or syrup, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomatoes stuffed with cottage cheese and chopped nuts, toasted English muffins, butter or fortified margarine, frosted cup-cakes, tea, milk.

DINNER: Chicken stew with tomato dumplings, Swiss chard, corn on cob, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, romaine salad with French dressing, blackberries, cream, coffee, milk.

Pay Increases Ordered

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—The State Salary Standardization Board has ordered pay increases ranging from $120 to $480 a year, retroactive to April 1, for an estimated 400 state employees. The raises cover 28 job titles and comprise the fourth group to be approved by the board in its studies to eliminate salary inequities among employees. The largest increase voted yesterday was for the senior supervisor of school medical service. The maximum salary for this position was raised from $5,720 to $6,200, and the minimum, from $4,620 to $5,000. The 1947 Legislature appropriated $3,000,000 to cover salary adjustments.

Calls Welfare Island Filthy

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Although its circular staircase evoked favorable comment from Charles Dickens in 1842, the Metropolitan Hospital and other city-owned buildings on Welfare Island now appear "filthy and damnable" to Mayor William O'Dwyer. The mayor officially inspected yesterday the century-old installations, where the city's aged and poor are housed. He said new quarters are needed badly, but

Japanese Girls Make Last-Minute Rush for Marriage

Yokohama, Aug. 21 (AP)—Eager little Japanese girls made an 11th-hour rush to marry American husbands today and beat the deadline for entry into the "fabulous" United States.

Midnight tonight ends the one-month period during which the U. S. Congress lifted the ban on Japanese immigration to enable war veterans to marry and take home girls met in this occupied country. In most cases, Nisei soldiers (American-born Japanese) were marrying the Japanese girls, but there was a sprinkling of white civilians—perhaps 30, who had asked to be discharged from the army here to take occupation jobs rather than leave their Oriental sweethearts.

The most talked-about marriage during the period was that of former Lt. Frank White of Somerset, Pa., to pretty Pia Kurusu, daughter of former Ambassador Saburo Kurusu, who was negotiating in Washington during the attack on Pearl Harbor. They were married August 14.

About 550 girls are estimated to have wed since July 22 in Yokohama and Kobe to Americans eligible to return them to the United States—men who served in the armed forces prior to December, 1946.

The number has been somewhat larger than I originally expected," said American Consul General U. Alexis Johnson.

There were about 75 marriages on the final day.

Here and there, apparently baffled by the proceedings, stood poker-faced Japanese papas and mammas. Adding a somewhat theatrical touch were several Japanese fathers wearing wooden sandals, long kimonos, western grey floras and carrying umbrellas.

The brides will not need even a passport to accompany their husbands to the United States. Most of them don't know much about America, but they expect to find: Choco apyon rayto, dansu, ice cream, mooby and reppo stick. Translated from pidgin English, that chocolate, dance, ice cream, movies and lipstick.

America Is Due to Sail Despite Loaders' Strike

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—The United States Lines announced today that the liner America was expected to sail at 3 p. m. despite the fact that striking members of the International Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.) walked off the vessel this morning rather than complete the task of loading her.

Disgruntled members of the I.L.A. are in their second day of an unauthorized strike, precipitated by dissatisfaction over proposed new contract terms.

A line spokesman said the America had been loaded "with what it needed" before the strike began.

I.L.A. headquarters here said most of the locals reporting thus far on the result of balloting to ratify a proposed new contract were "accepting unanimously," including locals in Baltimore.

Meanwhile the I.L.A. continued efforts to negotiate a new contract with employers while officials of the union tried unsuccessfully to persuade the men to go back to their jobs.

The I.L.A., seeking to renew its contract with the New York Shipping Association before midnight tonight, directed its 40 locals to vote last night on a proposed wage increase of 10 cents an hour, and report the results today.

Renewal of the contract before some provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act go into effect tomorrow would permit the union to extend preferential hiring clauses in the contract. The America is berthed at one of 10 piers worked by 4,000 members of Local 791 of the I.L.A. They failed to report for work yesterday and a union spokesman said the dockworkers believed the proposed new contract should contain improved provisions on vacations and working conditions. The union had asked a 25-cent increase in the present straight time hourly pay of $1.68 but a negotiating committee agreed Tuesday night on the 10-cent basis.

Blame Burglar for Fire

Lexington, Neb., Aug. 21 (AP)—Fire apparently set by a burglar who rifled a hardware store safe destroyed three-fourths of a downtown business block here this morning. Roy Rosenberg said the fire broke out simultaneously about midnight in four places in the Rosenberg hardware and implement store, owned by his father, and that later it was discovered the store's safe and till had been rifled.

its goal of slashing his 1948 budget by up to $6,000,000,000. Mr. Truman's report credited the Republicans with trimming his original spending estimate by $1,520,000,000 but he said the "net" saving likely will dwindle to only $528,000,000 or less because of factors that were not foreseen last January.

Bridges and other G.O.P. leaders immediately challenged the President, crying "politics." Senator Young (R-Md.) said the chief executives' estimate that Congress saved only $1,500,000,000 in its economy drive is a "political" stroke, evidently "an attempt to delude the nation into believing that Republicans are incompetent of carrying out an economy program."

Rep. Taber (R-N.Y.), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, declared in Auburn, N. Y., that the American people are "entitled to tax relief" as a means to avoid a choking-off of production and resultant inflation.

Six Billion Saving Claimed. Taber and Bridges claimed, at the time Congress adjourned in July, that the Republican Congress had saved over $6,000,000,000.

Democrats insisted at the same time that many of the budget cuts the Republicans claimed were "phony."

In a statement at a "seminar" to discuss the budget review, Mr. Truman advised newsmen not to "let anybody fool you" about how a surplus for the 1947 fiscal year which ended last June 30 came about. He said:

"It was by cutting expenditures $1,500,000,000 by the executive, and in no other way was that $700,000,000 surplus arrived at."

The federal budget was balanced last fiscal year for the first time in 17 years. The President announced he has ordered all government agencies to keep their next budgets below the ones under which they now operate.

As for the remainder of this fiscal year, Mr. Truman made it clear that the administration will ask for more money for its international program, and he said this might greatly alter his computations. Still to be determined is the cost of Secretary of State Marshall's plan for aid to Europe.

More Eggs, Maybe. New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Mabel, Brooklyn's famous barred Plymouth rock hen with the four legs and the double-barreled egg laying apparatus, has brought forth her first egg amid much neighborhood rejoicing.

The five-month-old freak was "unveiled" some weeks ago by its owner, Murray Weiss, and caused whistles of surprise among poultrymen. Besides four legs, Mabel has two vents for egg laying instead of the normal one. Weiss clucked happily today in announcing the first egg. Moreover, there is another one on the way in vent No. 2, he added, indicating Mabel may grow up to produce twice as many eggs as a normal chicken.

Bean Truck Taken From Esopus Creek

Two Brothers Made Escape From Drowning by Jump

Saugerties, Aug. 21.—The big 10-wheel motor truck which plunged into the Esopus creek, Tuesday night, almost drowning two men in 18 feet of water, was hauled out today by the Van Kleek wrecker of Kingston.

Nathaniel Singletary, accompanied in the cab by his brother, Jacob, both of Richfield Springs, was reported to have said his brakes failed on the partition in the street hill, and he headed straight into the creek. The Singletary brothers escaped drowning by leaping from the truck as it struck the water.

Calculating that a straight course would take him over a side street, until the vehicle stopped, he headed for the dead-end thoroughfare leading to the stream. The Singletary brothers escaped drowning by leaping from the truck as it struck the water.

Nathaniel, driver of the truck headed south with a load of beans, was treated at the Bonesteel Sanitarium for cuts and bruises.

Barefoot Dancing

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—The National Foot Health Council informed Health Commissioner Israel Weinstein today that it viewed with alarm a reported fad of barefoot dancing which the council said "is spreading across the country." The wages of barefoot dancing, said the council, is athlete's foot, plus "various plantar infections, multiple warts and other foot infections." Joseph Levy, chairman of the council, asked Weinstein in a letter to issue regulations, banning unshod hoofing.

Liquor Price Ads May Be Advanced By Big Producers

In an effort to offset public belief that fair trade in the liquor business in the state is in the form of grab, by distillers, additional price, advertising by major producers appears imminent after September 1, it was learned today.

The move has been brought about by the realization by distillers that there is a growing feeling of skepticism among consumers in regards to the price of liquor.

By additional advertising, some distillers believe, the public will be more fully informed that liquor prices have not been raised and that they are in line with those under Office of Price Administration controls. These prices, it has been reported, have remained in line since before the war in sharp contrast to the higher prices of automobiles, foods, clothing and nearly every other commodity.

Help to Vet Dealers. Much concern also is being made over an inaccurate view of the position of the State Liquor Authority in New York's fair trade procedure. Some distillers, the report says, seek rigid enforcement of the regulations which take effect September 1 in order to provide 1,000 metropolitan retailers, who are veterans, with a chance of survival.

Although no confirmation has been made as to the policy the distillers will agree upon, some believe that price story in advertising is the answer.

Prices of liquor will still be determined by the industry with the State Liquor Authority having the power to enforce the listed fair trade prices.

Catskill Man Killed

William Bullivant, 75, of Kaaterskill avenue, Catskill, was instantly killed Tuesday night at Catskill when he was struck while crossing Route 9-W in the village. William Clancy, 32, of Albany, driver of the Fort Nelson Motor Express Company's Brockway truck, told State Police that the aged man stopped in front of his vehicle, after having first stopped. Clancy was not held.

Fugitive Arrested

Monticello, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—Horace U. Walker, 49, of Spartanburg, S. C., was in Sullivan county jail today awaiting extradition to Columbia, S. Nurse's Father Is To Ask Governor To Reopen Inquest

Attorney Says Appeal Is to Be Made Soon as Possible; Murder is Father's Belief

Lake George, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—The attorney for the father of Iva Reznick, attractive 23-year-old nurse, says he will ask Governor Dewey to reopen the inquest into her death as a result of a coroner's finding that her drowning on August 1 was accidental.

Maurice A. Nernberg of Pittsburgh, attorney for Myer Reznick of Newark, N. J., told a reporter last night that "sufficient evidence was produced in this matter for a different kind of a verdict."

Reznick, himself, shouted at the close of the inquest that his daughter was "murdered."

Nernberg declared he would appeal to Dewey as soon as he obtained a transcript of the inquest record.

The bruised body of the New York city (Mt. Sinai Hospital) nurse was found in four feet of water in Lake George off a beach near a hotel where she was vacationing.

After a two-day inquest which closed yesterday, Warren County Coroner Hilton Dier held that on the evidence presented, "I don't think I can come to any other decision than that this death was accidental."

Reznick threw his hands into the air and shouted:

"All I can say is my daughter was murdered. I don't give a damn."

District Attorney J. Clarence Herlihy said the case could be reopened if Reznick could produce new evidence.

Finn Testifies

Jack Finn, 23, of Stamford, Conn., a bellhop and Miss Reznick's companion the night before her death, testified that he struck her while they were seated in his parked automobile after spending the evening at a tavern with two other couples.

He said he put his arms around the nurse and kissed her and that she became angry and scratched him.

"At that point I struck her because I didn't like her scratching me," he added.

Finn testified that the woman jumped from his car. Later, he said, he and a friend, Paul Cotten, 23, of Orange, N. J., also a bellhop, searched for her.

Finn told the coroner that he had "no concern as to how her body was bruised."

Under questioning by Herlihy, Finn said he struck Miss Reznick "once or twice."

Lorraine Grant, 23, a New York city nurse vacationing with Miss Reznick, testified that there was no quarreling in the party of six during the time they were at the tavern and that no one was intoxicated.

Similar testimony was given earlier by others in the group, Miss Esther Frank, 23, of Glens Falls, and William Ryan, 28, of Worcester, Mass.

Abraham Lincoln wrote the first part of the Gettysburg address in ink, the second part in pencil.

Using Submarine Detector to Find Tidal Wave Cause

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—A once-secret magnetic device used to track down submarines is now hunting the birthplace of huge tidal waves such as the one which swept death and destruction across Hawaii last year.

Geologists have been surveying the Aleutians by air with a magnetometer to help the navy predict volcanic eruptions and other movements of the earth's crust which cause gigantic waves to heave up on beaches thousands of miles away.

A submarine quake somewhere in the mysterious depths around the Aleutian chain was blamed for the tidal disturbance which killed 175 persons and injured 299 others in the Hawaiian Islands in April, 1946.

The Aleutian surveys are the first of a series which will embrace the Hawaiian Islands themselves and the Marshalls, including atom-bombed Bikini. The navy, in announcing the research work today, said the party will return to the United States late in September.

The airborne magnetometer records variations in the earth's magnetic field. During wartime it detected Nazi submarines because their presence interfered with normal readings.

The navy said indications are "encouraging" that the gadget will reveal large bodies of hot or molten rock relatively close to the surface.

This would enable scientists to tell ahead of time when a volcano was getting ready to erupt, the navy theorized.

The United States geologist survey is cooperating in the studies, which will be supplemented with ground investigations using geophysical instruments.

Russians Silent On Seizure of 3 Soldiers in Korea

Seoul, Aug. 21 (AP)—Two strong protests and repeated demands for an explanation for the seizure of three American soldiers in north Korea, remain unanswered by the Russians.

Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, American occupation commander, said he had made the protests over the arrests since they occurred August 12 and that he was gravely concerned about the incident.

Intelligence officers said daily queries by the U. S. liaison officer at Soviet Headquarters at Pyongyang were answered with: "No information. General Korotkov (commander of the Russian Occupation Zone) is handling the case himself."

The Liaison officer said he happened to be in the village of Yohyon-Ni, just inside the Russian zone, and saw Russian guards detain the three—T/5 Tommy F. Pugsley of Renton, Wash., Pfc. John D. Hodge of Seattle, and Pfc. Gerald K. Geffen of Fort Chester, N. Y.

He said the guards refused to let him speak with the trio. The soldiers were on an official mission to inspect telephone lines connecting U. S. Headquarters here with Pyongyang.

Will Sell Odom's Record Ship for $50,000 Figure

Chicago, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Reynolds Bombshell, a converted army bomber which twice rounded the earth, was offered for sale today to anyone with $50,000 and a yen to "fly around the world some week-end."

The ship, in which William Odom circled the globe in the record time of three days early this month was advertised for sale in Aviation Cycles by Milton Reynolds, Chicago manufacturer who sponsored Odom's hop.

Reynolds said the bomber cost him $350,000, that he spent $150,000 on it for two world hops and that "it is in perfect shape to make another flight right now."

Reynolds accompanied Odom in the earlier round-the-world flight in April. The second trip was a solo.

Odom will fly another converted military plane, also named the Reynolds Bombshell, in the Bendix air race next week.

Home of Brave Is Dramatic Offering At the Maverick

Woodstock, Aug. 21—Home of the Brave by Arthur Laurents was dramatically presented by the Maverick Players last night at the Maverick Theatre.

The play stresses the torment experienced by the supersensitive, with the resultant inferiority complex and spirit of self defense which usually asserts itself in such cases. This combination of destructive emotions is portrayed as the story progresses, and is gradually overcome by building up confidence in the patient through the tireless and skillful efforts of an army psychiatrist. The action of the play takes place in the jungles of the South Pacific.

Fred Sadoff does a masterful job as Conroy, the supersensitive Jewish boy. His varying emotions were portrayed with real feeling for the character he represented.

The supposedly tough sergeant, Mingo, was excellently played by Lee Marvin, who was very natural in the part.

Kenneth Paine gave a splendid performance as Finch, the soldier from Arizona. Striving for the realistic during dress rehearsal on Tuesday night, he had the misfortune to cut his arm on a sharp bayonet, requiring several stitches to be taken. In last night's performance the sincerity and vigor displayed in his characterization, caused the stitches to open up.

T. J., the disagreeable and unpopular corporal, was earnestly played by Ernest Yacovino.

The role of Captain Harold Bitterger, the psychiatrist, was a mature one to which James Doohan gave perfect understanding. John Howard capably handled the part of Major Dennis Robinson.

The exciting jungle scenery was the work of William Pitkin.

Paul Morrison directed Home of the Brave which will run through Sunday.

Riding Club Wins Several Ribbons At County Fair

Woodstock, Aug. 21—Members of the Woodstock Riding Club were highly elated over the showing made by riders from their organization who took part in the Ulster County Fair Horse Show, Wednesday afternoon, at Forsyth Park.

For several weeks Virgil Van Wagenen, president of the Riding Club, and Frederick Van de Bogart have been making the necessary arrangements for the show entries.

and on Wednesday morning, a large truck transported five of the mounts to the fair grounds. Other animals were ridden all the way from Woodstock to Kingston by their owners.

Those winning ribbons are Richard Shultis on Texas Prince who took first prize in the Road Hack class; Clark Bell on Colonel, who took first prize in the novelty class; Cuyin Hitzig on pony Robin, who took second prize in the pony class; Buddy Emberson on Paul Perlman's Lovely Lady took second prize in the three-gaited class; Ruth Lapo riding Virgil Van Wagenen's Arab took third prize in the Western stock class; Paul Perlman riding Lovely Lady took third prize in the Road Hack class; Winsley Muller won a blue ribbon with her yearling filly, Jinx, shown in hand.

In all but two of the events, competition was keen, and the Woodstock riders had to do their very best to keep up with it. In the stock class where such riders as Ferd Gundersleeve, Aubrey Roosa, and others of great experience and ability took part, the comparatively inexperienced riders of the Woodstock Club felt they had little chance. The fact that Ruth Lapo took third prize was hailed as a great achievement in view of the fact that she was not riding her own horse and was up against some of the best Western type riders in this part of the county.

The road hack class in which Richard Shultis and "Doc" Perlman both took ribbons, was very large.

Art Conference To Be at League; Program Is Given

Woodstock, Aug. 21—Because of the increasing interest shown by artist and layman alike in the forthcoming first Woodstock Art Conference, the Art Students League, Woodstock, has been chosen for the scene of the conference instead of the Woodstock Art Gallery as originally announced. The Woodstock Artists Association is sponsoring the conference which will be held on Friday and Saturday afternoons, August 29 and 30, from 2:30 to 6 o'clock.

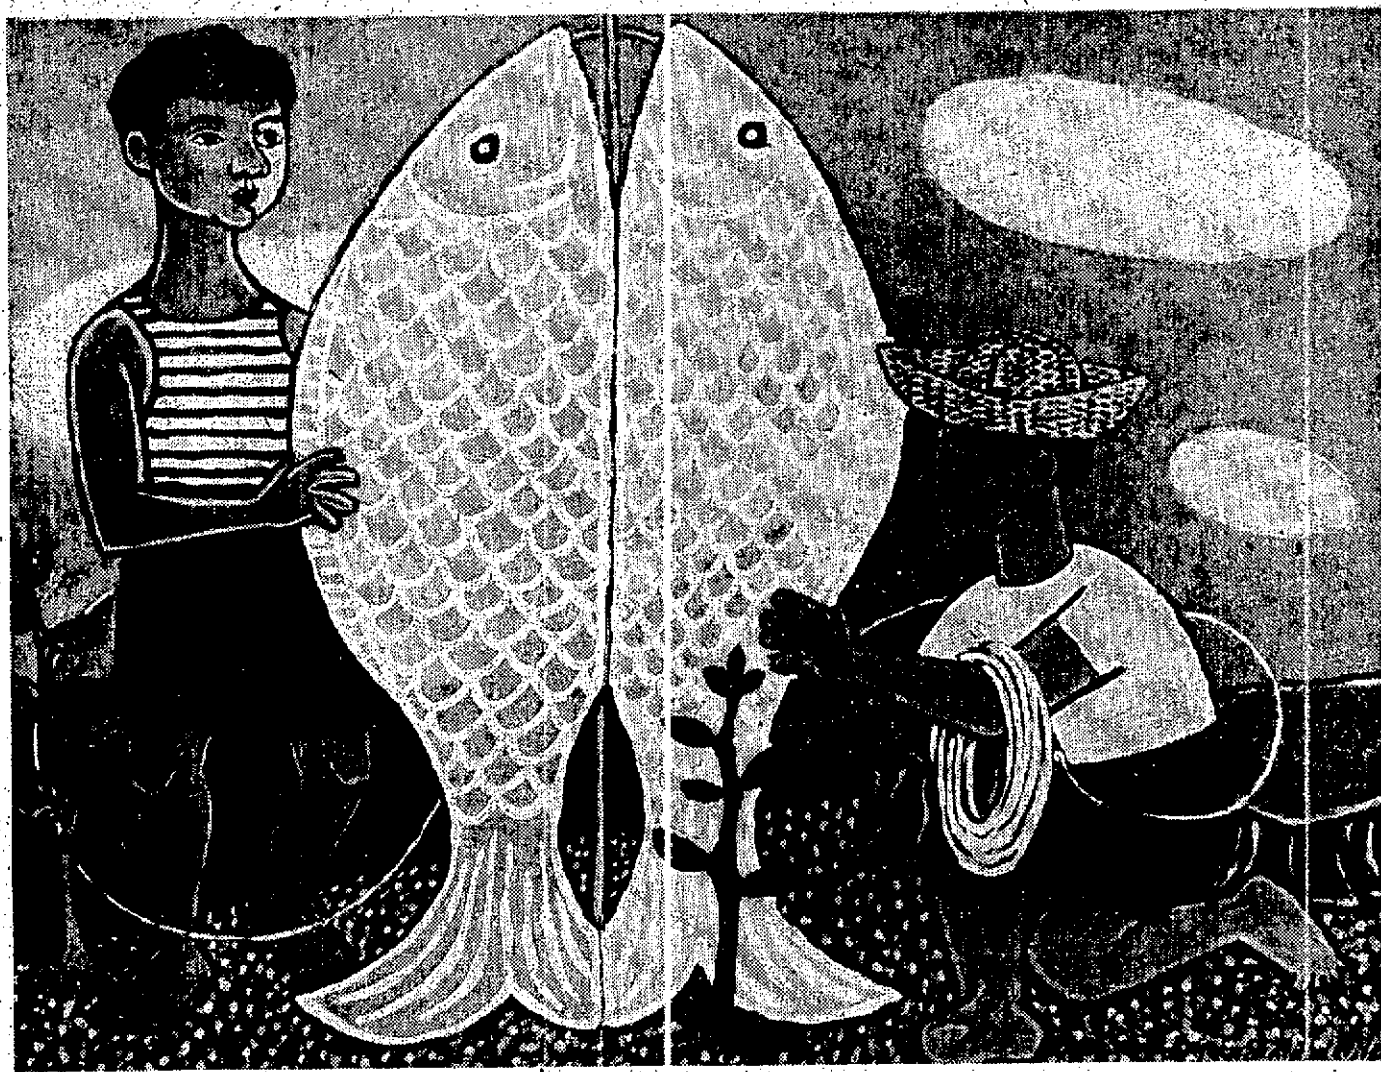

Those who have already signified their willingness to speak during this important occasion are Yasuo Kuniyoshi, painter; David Smith, sculptor; and Harold Clueren, writer and director, all of whom will be heard in the Friday session when Arnold Blanch will be chairman. It is expected that two other speakers will be included in the opening session, one a prominent dealer and the other a noted museum director.

The Saturday afternoon program will include talks by Heywood Brown, Jr., newspaperman; Milton Lowenthal, collector; Howard Devree, critic; Hudson Walker, director of Artists Equity, and Mitchell Siporin, artist.

Each speaker will be allotted 15 minutes on the program with about 10 minutes for answering questions following the talk.

A party at the Woodstock Art Students League Saturday evening, August 30, with the Artists Association and Artists Equity collaborating, will culminate the conference.

New Show Is Opened at Woodstock Art Gallery

The Woodstock Artists' Association has opened its fifth exhibit of the summer and the show may be seen until August 26. Outstanding work is shown by John McClellan with Manna; Clifford B. West with a Guatemalan landscape, Panajachel; and Reginald Wilson with Chinese Kite.

Nations Optimistic In Defense Parley

By PHILIP CLARKE

Quitandinha, Brazil, Aug. 21 (AP)

The United States, Brazil and Cuba worked optimistically today on a compromise formula they hoped would speed the Inter-American hemisphere defense conference over its first major hurdle.

Cuba's desire for immediate guarantees against "economic aggression."

Brazilian Foreign Minister Raul Fernandes, the conference president, arranged a series of "coffee table conferences" in an effort to avert a clash on Cuba's request that a hemisphere defense treaty being drafted here include a clause protecting American nations against "acts and threats of economic aggression."

Secretary of State George S.

Marshall told the delegates yesterday that the United States felt the first task of the conference was to draft the treaty contemplated in the act of Chapultepec, leaving economic considerations until the next inter-American conference, at Bogota in January.

Maverick Festival Plans Completed; Invitation Needed

Woodstock, Aug. 21—Preparations are under way for the Maverick Festival to be held on The Maverick, Saturday from 4 p. m. until 12:30 a. m.

Those in charge of the disposal of tickets are answering many inquiries from confused individuals who are accustomed to being solicited for the purchase of tickets rather than being limited by invitation. It was made plain, however, that tickets are sold to Woodstock residents and their friends, which means that anyone receiving an invitation may buy tickets for themselves and as many others as they wish to. The purpose of the invitation has been to eliminate undesirables. In the past, trouble was caused at Maverick Festivals by outsiders whom nobody knew. This time by limiting admission to those who are known or acquainted with the committee members, it is believed that trouble-makers and rowdies will be kept away.

Must Be Recommended

The committee in charge of the Maverick Festival made it clear that respectable, fun loving people would all be welcome but that in order to gain admission, they must come through the recommendation of someone who had received an invitation. In this way, the person who received the invitation might be held responsible for the behavior of those who came under their recommendation. Seven hundred and fifty invitations have been mailed out to Woodstock residents and from these people still others may receive the right to buy tickets.

From what those who are in charge of the affair say, the revived Festival promises to be a merry and neighborly affair with many cultural and artistic aspects. They say that this will be a warm-up year for the event and that future festivals of a more elaborate nature may be expected to take place, if this one is successful.

It is plainly indicated on the tickets that everyone is requested to attend in costume. An extra charge will be made for those in ordinary clothes. Prizes will be given to those attired in original or beautiful costumes.

All committees for the festival have been urged to attend a meeting this evening at 7:30, in the Maverick Concert Hall, to make certain every last detail is being taken care of.

War, Navy Heads Likely Will Stay In Their Key Posts

Washington, Aug. 21 (P)—President Truman, it was reported today, has decided to keep present War and Navy Department leaders at key posts under the new national defense set up.

High White House officials, asking not to be quoted by name, said that was the President's decision.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross would not confirm the reports but did say the President will have an announcement on the new defense organization at a 3 p. m. (E.S.T.), news conference.

Mr. Truman already has announced that James V. Forrestal will take over as secretary of national defense under new legislation putting the War and Navy Departments under a single cabinet officer.

As disclosed by White House officials, this will be the line-up in key posts under Forrestal:

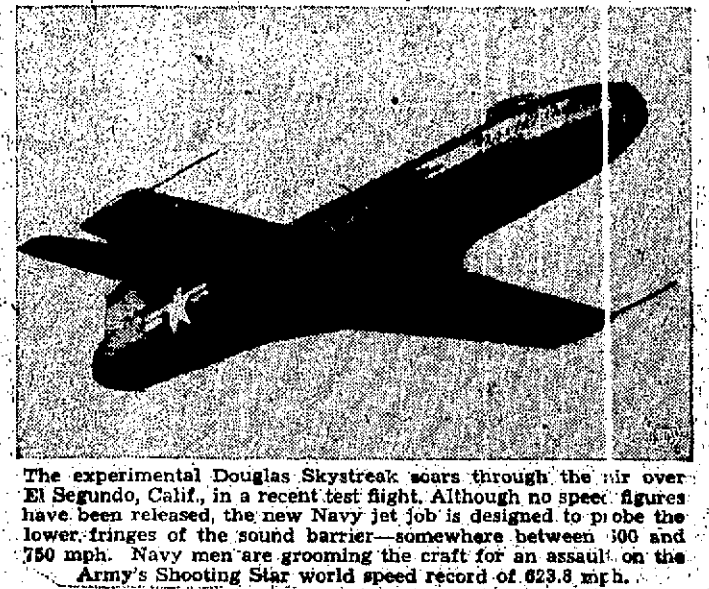

John L. Sullivan, now undersecretary of the Navy, will replace Forrestal as secretary when the latter takes his oath as secretary of defense about September 1.

W. Stuart Symington, now assistant secretary of war for air, will become the country's first secretary of the air force, with independent status.

Kenneth Royall will continue as secretary of war, although losing his cabinet status.

All will be given recess appointments, subject to confirmation when the Senate meets again.

Navy Takes On Army for Jet Record

The experimental Douglas Skyrocket soars through the air over El Segundo, Calif., in a recent test flight. Although no speed figures have been released, the new Navy jet job is designed to probe the lower fringes of the sound barrier—somewhere between 900 and 750 mph. Navy men are grooming the craft for an assault on the Army's Shooting Star world speed record of 623.8 mph.

Brewster Says

committee, has some "interesting hearings" coming up in connection with the navy's wartime purchase of Arabian oil.

The Maine senator told a reporter that a search of the Roosevelt files in Hyde Park had shown that the late Harry Hopkins authorized a memorandum which urged, in effect, that the United States go ahead with the purchase of oil in that country to appease King Ibn Saud despite the fact that it might be more costly than products obtained elsewhere.

He declined to elaborate on this phase of the inquiry, except to say that it all would be brought out in detail in subsequent hearings.

Despite efforts by local Democrats and some Republicans to make the celebration of "Joe Martin Day" strictly non-partisan, Brewster told 1,200 persons who ate claims and lobsters in a mammoth clam bake that the "end may not be yet" for Martin's political ascent.

Catching the Republican spirit of the occasion, G.O.P. Gov. Robert F. Bradford of Massachusetts said that Martin may be "only on the threshold of an even greater career."

Senator Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.), mentioned as Massachusetts Republicans' likely choice as their "favorite son" for the G.O.P. presidential nomination, said he is "confident that if Joe Martin wants some thing more, the people of Massachusetts will be behind him to a man."

Democrats, and Martin himself, however, deprecated this idea. Martin made no mention of the possibility that he might be a candidate for first or second place on the 1948 Republican national ticket, other than to tell a reporter that he has no aspirations in that direction.

in which Dodge noted that the Russians seized the Lönau oil refinery and other industrial plants in their occupation zone even while the commission was trying to define just what plants could be taken as reparations. The commission chief also charged the Russians with showing "indifference" to contentions of the American, British and French members if these conflicted in any way with Soviet claims.

Despite the apparent breakdown of both talks, officials here made plain that this government is determined not to consider them washed up entirely.

The Library of Congress report on Soviet-American relations was prepared by the library's legislative reference service at the request of Senator Connally (Tex.), ranking Democrat on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

A compilation and analysis of various writings on Russia and Communism, the report sums up the Kremlin's foreign policy in these words:

"The summit of Communist hopes and aspirations is, as in Lenin's time, a complete change in the world's political, economic, social and cultural aspirations, and at the base of the Soviet foreign policy lies the desire to make the world safe for Communism and Sovietism."

"In their efforts to achieve their goal, the Russians are prepared to play any card available at the time and which promises maximum success in a given situation."

England and America, a campaign to raise $350,000 in eight southern states—Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, North and South Carolina—and in Stamford, Conn., to establish a welfare center in Lorient was reported under way by the American Aid Committee. Medical apparatus for school children was to be installed.

Change in City's

13 cities in several counties in the southeastern region of the state. The survey has already revealed in some instances he said, that the bureau was forced to extend itself beyond original plans.

The study of one city in Westchester county, which was on schedule as the only project there at the time, led to the disclosure that similar surveys in other cities of the area were required, because the cities were on an interdependent network of highways.

Major Problems Found

Major problems in establishing arterial routes are generally found in the older cities of the state, the engineer reported. Many of these grew from small settlements dating back to Colonial times, and most of them have narrow, congested streets in central areas.

Sections of both uptown and downtown Kingston have many such streets, but the city has a main advantage in such a thoroughfare as Broadway, which is adequate in width throughout most of its length.

Several State Troopers were assigned with local police at key stations in the city and the others were manned by employees of the state department or local police or both.

The bureau is interested mainly in determining the volume of every-day travel from points outside of the city, the year-around flow from distant points over main routes and the heavy increase of summer travel.

All types of traffic are to be considered in determining the location or main routes and changes in existing main routes will be made where it is found generally more convenient to the public and in relieving traffic congestion.

Those who have been engaged in the survey in other cities reported that it is found generally that virtually every auto on the road or traveling city streets has a blue ticket on the windshield, by 10 a. m. Other autos which get a later start in the day are given the tickets, but the rush is generally over in the morning insofar as the survey workers are concerned.

Officers on the survey and the other workers found drivers generally familiar with the reason behind the idea of stopping cars at the various stations and the work proceeded with little delay.

A special survey was conducted through the day at the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry and it is expected that the findings there will have some bearing on the estimated travel over the proposed new bridge over the Hudson.

Twelve local patrolmen were assigned by Chief of Police Ernest A. Boss to assist in the survey. They were joined by four men from the sheriff's office and several State Police from sub-stations of the area.

Ferry Will Make Special Trips for Rhinebeck Fair

Service on the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry, which stops early in the evening under its regular schedule, will run until 11:30 p. m. to accommodate the people of this city and vicinity who attend the Dutchess County Fair at Rhinebeck August 26 through 30, according to recent announcement.

The service, which is discontinued after 7 p. m. daily, will continue on until a half hour before midnight, during the fair, the announcement said.

Ferries will leave Kingston at 7:20 p. m. and every 40 minutes thereafter until 11:20 p. m. The service from Rhinecliff will run every 40 minutes from 7 p. m. until 11:30.

show (15.2 hands and over). Mr. VanVleet won first prize, and Dr. Periman second in this class.

Saddle horses (14.2 and under 15.2) exhibited at the fair found Frances Beck, Kingston, winning the verdict for first place over Elaine VanVleet, Kingston, and Jeanno Osterhoudt, Kingston, who placed second and third in that order.

Myra Hopper, Kingston, demonstrated the prowess of her saddle horse (in the 12 and under 14.2 class), to win the first prize money over Cayla Hitzig, Bears-ville, and Betty Mullen, second and third place winners.

The road hack type horse show found Richard Shultis, Bearsville, first prize winner, and Catherine Roach, Kingston, John M. Reis, Kingston, and Dr. Paul Perlman, Woodstock, in second, third, and fourth places, respectively.

The novel class, showing horse and rider in costume, was led by Clark Boll, Jeromineck, Bearsville, with second, third and fourth places taken by Jane LeFever, Kingston, Susanne Dunbar, Hurley, and Kenneth Post, Kingston, in that order.

The cattle judges had to cope with approximately 50 animals that were brought in for exhibiting by area farmers and dairy cattle owners.

Holstein Class
Howard Anderson, Accord, had three years and over Holstein cow (under one year) class and walked off with the honors in that division.

Anderson also took first in the three years and over Holstein cow class, with Todd Meredith, Wallkill, second, Fred Meredith, Wallkill, third, and Larry DuBois, Gardiner, finishing fourth.

The only Holstein heifer (in the two years and under three class), was exhibited by John DeWitt, Catskill, who was automatically judged the winner.

Holstein heifers (one year, under two) were shown by Raymond DuBois, Gardiner, first place winner, and Roger S. Hornbeck, Stone Ridge, who came in second, Robert DePuy, Accord, finishing third, and fourth prize winner John DeWitt, Catskill.

The senior calf Holstein heifer class was paced by Barbara Tucker, Gardiner, who also took second place honors. Third prize went to Howard Anderson, Accord, and fourth to Roger Hornbeck, Stone Ridge.

Harry J. Beatty, Kingston, won first place in the junior calf Holstein heifer class, followed by Raymond H. DuBois, Gardiner, and Barbara Tucker, Gardiner. Mr. Beatty also took fourth in this event.

In the produce of cow, two head, any sex or age Holstein class, Larry DuBois, Gardiner, the only entry, took the honors.

Guernsey Class
The Mollenhauer Brothers, Rosendale, won first prize in the Guernsey bull (one year, under two) exhibit, with Charles Reyses, Hurley, coping second place honors.

Hidden Valley Farms, Kingston, placed first and third in the Guernsey bull (under one year) showing, with second place taken by Harry Platt, Wallkill.

Hidden Valley Farms went on to take all prizes awarded in the Guernsey cow (three years and over) and heifer (two years, under three) classes. First and second place in the Guernsey heifer (one year, under two) division was also won by Hidden Valley Farms, third place going to Harry Platt, Wallkill.

William Hoffstatter, Kingston, was first in the Guernsey senior calf heifer showing, followed by Hidden Valley Farms, Richard Hoffstatter, Kingston, and Hidden Valley Farms in fourth place also.

First and second place in the Guernsey junior calf heifer showings went to Richard and William Hoffstatter, respectively, with Hidden Valley Farms third, and Harry Platt, Wallkill, fourth.

The only entries in the other Guernsey exhibits were all by Hidden Valley Farms, who took the honors automatically.

No Ayrshires were shown yesterday.

Howard Anderson, Accord, took six blue ribbon prizes in the Brown Swiss divisions, winning first in the bull (two years, under three), cow (three years and over), heifer (two years, under three), junior calf heifer, produce of cow, and mature herd (five animals) classes.

Other firsts in the Brown Swiss showings were taken by Wessel Cross, Kyserike, and John Cross, also of Kyserike.

In the poultry divisions, Julius Kross, Ellenville, won first prize for the best pullet, Raymond DuBois, Gardiner, took first for the best cockerel; Julius Kross again won top honors in the best pair entry and the best hen class, with the best cock exhibit by Alan DuBois, Gardiner.

Ardonia, won the honors in the fruit exhibit, being the only entry listed.

A sweepstakes prize was awarded Salvatore Modica, Kingston, for having the largest number of entries in this division.

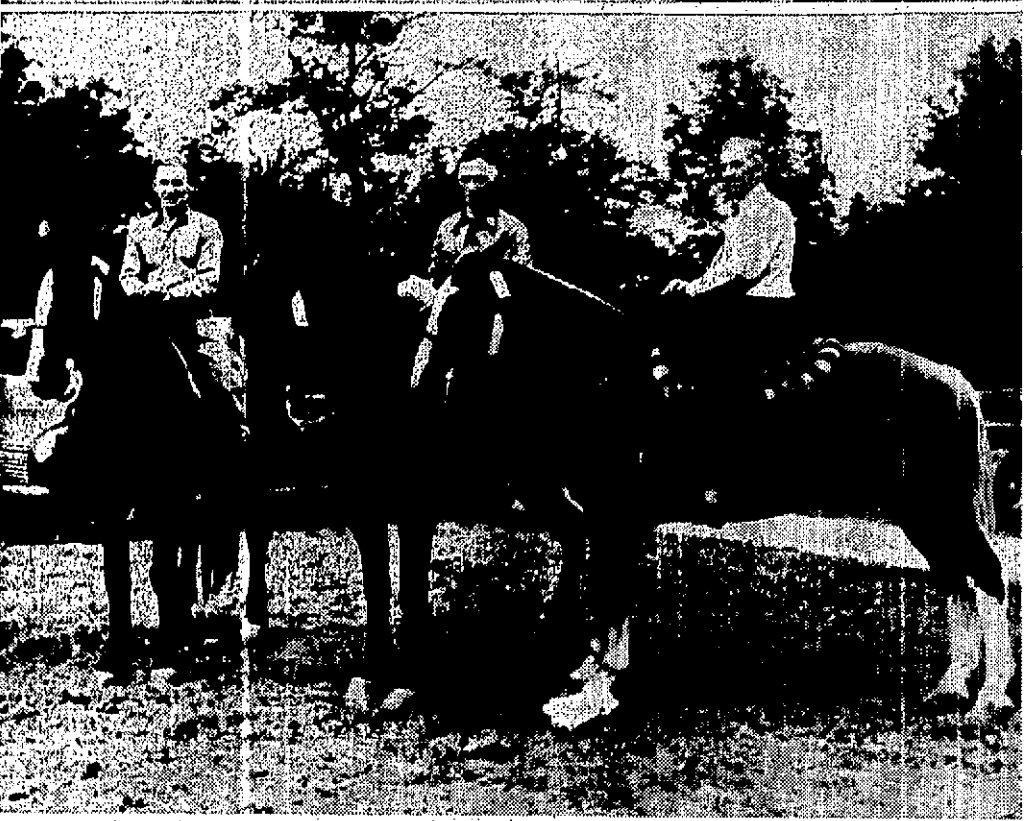

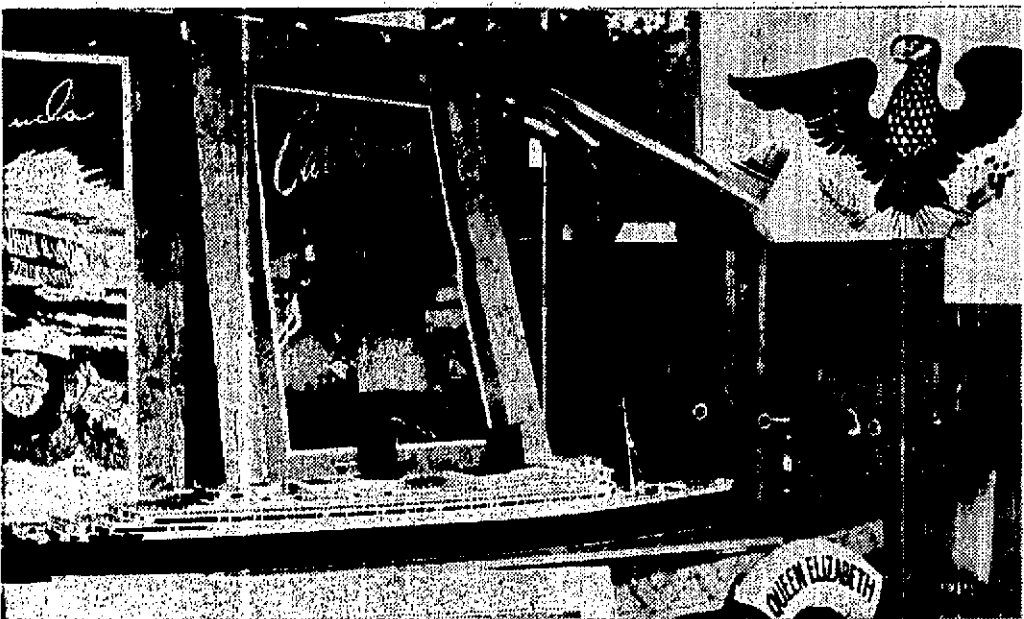

The best collection of vegetables exhibited in one container was displayed by the Kingston City Home, Albert V. Kurd, Kingston, finished second in this event, followed by Vincent Maggiore, Kingston, who also took the highest amount of first prizes in individual vegetable exhibits, totaling nine wins.

Many entries in this department were displayed by the Future Farmers Club of Marlborough, who walked off with many individual honors in separate classes.

In the Grange exhibits, Patroon was listed first for making a creditable display, followed by Rosendale and Lake Katrine. In another class of this same department, Clintondale finished first, with Highland and Milton-on-the-Hudson second and third, respectively.

Participating in the educational exhibits were Pomona Grange, the Ulster County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, the Kingston Canning Center, and the Ulster County Artificial Breeders Association. Junior Educational Ex-

Junior Growers From Ulster In Produce Contest

Amherst, Mass.—Sixteen junior growers from Ulster county are competing in the seventh annual National Junior Vegetable Growers' Association production-marketing contest, Professor Grant B. Snyder of Massachusetts State College, adult advisor of the Association, announced today.

These young gardeners are competing with other young growers from 44 states for a share of the $6,000 scholarship fund provided annually for the association by A. & P. Food Stores. The awards include a $500 national championship, four $200 regional awards, thirty-three $100 sectional awards, and four awards of $10 each in each state.

The contest seeks to demonstrate to young people efficient production and marketing methods.

Winners are decided on the basis of the contestants' efforts on studies of production and marketing, vegetable projects and community activities. Awards are made annually at the association's convention which this year will be held at Jackson, Miss., December 11, 12 and 13.

Among those enrolled from Ulster county in the 1947 contest are: Jack S. Miller, Eugene O. Coray and John R. May, all of Wallkill; Harold H. Greiner, Anthony S. Pagan, Carmine P. Grasso, Pierre J. Forgiuon, Sam N. Fasano, Paul Yereance and David D. Greiner, all of Marlborough; Edgar C. Rhoades, Joseph F. Pignolo, Charles J. Weed, Joseph Lyons and James D. Kent, all of Milton.

Will Display Bull

The "Flying Bull" from the Hidden Valley Farm will be on display at the Ulster County Fair, Company at Tillson on Friday. Other prize-winning animals from the Ulster County Fair also will be on display.

Patrolman Inherits Tailor Shop and $47,000 in Boston

Boston, Aug. 21 (AP)—The shop of "Mike the tailor" is still open for business—under the same old sign.

But if you ask to see the owner it won't be Mike. It will be his first American friend—the cop on the beat—Patrolman Frank Riley.

Mike used to tell his other friends about how he came here as a boy from Armenia and how he probably didn't realize, just what this new country was until the day in 1919 when he opened his tailor shop.

That day—and Mike's voice was proud when he told it—an officer of the law came in to say hello and wish him luck.

For 28 years Mike and Officer Frank kept that visit going. On his days off Frank used to climb into overalls and go down to help Mike paint the shop or else they'd go to a ball game together. After Frank got married Mike the tailor would have dinner with the Rileys.

Last July 4 Mike and Frank were going to the races but Frank had special police work and couldn't make it.

Mike went alone and dropped dead from a heart attack.

But he'd thought of his friend before that.

The will of Marcus Kalmekier,

52, revealed today that he bequeathed his tailor shop and $47,

000 to Officer Frank Riley.

The will made only one request of Frank.

It said please keep the old sign on the shop.

Bard Promotions Are Announced For Six on Faculty

Annandale-on-Hudson, Aug. 21—Dr. Edward C. Fuller, president of Bard College, announced today the promotion of six faculty members as follows:

William Asip—Instructor in physical education to assistant professor of physical education.

Frederick W. Dupre—Assistant professor of English to associate professor of English.

Harvey Fite—Assistant professor of sculpture to associate professor of sculpture.

Paul W. Koenig—Instructor in government to assistant professor of government.

The Rev. Frederick C. Shafer—Instructor in religion and chaplain to assistant professor of religion and chaplain.

Saul Talkert—Instructor in industrial design to assistant professor of industrial design.

He also announced the promotion of Mrs. Elsie L. Quinn from assistant registrar to registrar. Mrs. Quinn, a resident of Red Hook, has been assistant registrar since 1945. She is a graduate of Vassar College and previously served with the Building Planning and Zoning Commission of the Town of Greenburg, Westchester county, and with the Bard College Institute for Economics Education.

New Staff Appointments Made at Bard College

Annandale-on-Hudson, Aug. 21—The appointment of four new members to the Administrative Staff of Bard College was announced today by Dr. Edward C. Fuller, president.

Miss Phillis E. Holmes, a graduate of Carleton College, will be the assistant director of admissions. She has served as secretary to the assistant to the president of Carleton College, worked overseas in the Pacific with the American Red Cross, and recently has been teaching history at the Highland Manor School for Girls.

Miss Beatrice Thorne has been appointed secretary to the President. She is a graduate of Barnard College, and from 1940 to 1945 was on the Administrative Staff of St. John's College, Annapolis, Md. She is also an author, her short stories having appeared in the American Magazine, McCall's and other well known publications.

Miss Jean Louise Anderson, a former student at the Corcoran

School of Art in Washington, D. C., and the Art Student's League in New York, has been added to the secretarial staff. She is continuing her work in sculpture with Harvey Fite, associate professor of sculpture. Harold S. Boice of Madalini, has been appointed as a bookkeeper in the Bursar's Office. He has worked with a number of large corporations in New York and before coming to Bard was with the Triggs Color Printing Corporation.

Wild Life Refuge Off South Carolina Being Developed

206 Applicants to Get
Lots on New Public
Paradise State Is Preparing

By DEL BOOTH
Beaufort, S. C., Aug. 21 (AP)—Remote, lonely and mysterious Hunting Island, easternmost of a group of 100 on the Atlantic coast off Beaufort, is being converted into a public paradise—without property taxes.

Inaccessible for years except to sailboats approaching the island—long beach on the Atlantic side, the island has become a natural game refuge for deer and other wild life attracted by the fresh water lagoons and the virgin timber that covers two-thirds of the island's 5,000 acres.

A lucky 206 early applicants have been assigned lots in this wild Utopia by the South Carolina State Forestry Commission which is developing the five-mile long island into a state park recreation area.

The lots are assigned on ten-year leases, renewable on expiration for another ten years. All have long been spoken for.

The island has been made accessible from the mainland by a highway crossing a series of islands and connecting bridges and causeways. Development of the park area and the model beach village in which the building lots have been designated awaits completion of a three-mile road along the backbone of the island.

The smooth, hard beach, 400 to 600 feet wide, which runs the length of the island is the focal point of the park area, the beach village and a separate park area for negroes. Dominating the beach is an abandoned lighthouse. Its observation platform, open to all corners, affords a magnificent coastal view.

Privately owned since the Spaniards explored it 30 years after Columbus discovered the new world, the island has been under six flags—Spanish, French, English, the State of South Carolina during the Revolutionary War, the United States, twice, and the Confederacy.

It had been closed to visitors for many years until Beaufort county purchased the property in 1935 and turned it over to the state for development into a state park.

Swimming, fishing and loafing are the island's principal diversions. Lot leaseholders in the model beach village should make a well-rounded community, for there are 35 business men, 22 architects and construction men, 20 physicians and surgeons, 19 merchants, 10 farmers, nine professors, seven lawyers, six dentists, six druggists and three newspapermen among them.

Had Extras

Gerald D. O'Neill, 51-year-old bald, bespectacled, paunchy movie extra, had some extra wives—seven, in fact—according to Hollywood police, who charge he married eight women without bothering to get divorces in between dashes to the altar. The women, all middle-aged widows, described him as a fine gentleman.

Seven, seven lawyers, six dentists, six druggists and three newspapermen among them.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, Aug. 20—Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Grahamsville were callers at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dolan recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell and sister called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watkins in Walden one day last week.

Roger Beatty returned home Friday after spending a week with his brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beatty at Beacon.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell attended the funeral of Elmer Wygant at his late home in Leontdale Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Birch and daughter Joslyn of Marlinton, Del., are visiting at the home of Mr. Birch's grandmother, Mrs. M. B. Birch. Mr. Birch is associated with the Hercules Powder Company of Wilmington, Del., as a patent attorney.

The Rev. and Mrs. Frederick Shield, who are spending the summer at the VanWyck home in this place, attended the wedding of a friend at Ridgefield Park, N. J., Saturday.

Next Sunday at 11 o'clock the Rev. Irving Decker of Warwick will preach in the New Hurley Reformed Church. Sunday school, 10:15 a. m. Visitors are invited to attend these services.

Robert Miller had the misfortune to break his leg while playing ball in Wallkill Friday evening.

The Rev. John Follette of New Paltz and sister, Mary Gardner, of Warner Rohus, Ga., and Mabelle Allen and Florence Young of Woonsocket, R. I., attended services in the New Hurley Church Sunday morning. The Rev. Follette and sister were residence of this place when children having lived on the Nelson place.

Several from here attended the supper at the St. Charles Church at Ireland Corners Friday evening.

Thirty-one members of the Young Women's Club and friends motored to Cragmoor last Tuesday and attended the play, "Does the Lady Yield." On the return trip home, they stopped at the Campus in Walden for refreshments.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 18 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have excess of acids in your blood, your 18 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are your day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause backache, rheumatism, pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling up, nausea, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty urination with burning and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may not help the same as before, so ask your druggist for Don's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 10 years. Don's give happy relief and will help the 18 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Don's Pills.

Favorable Trade Balance

Sydney (AP)—Australian trade with the United States showed a large Australian export surplus for the seven months ended Jan. 31, according to Commonwealth Statistician Dr. Roland Wilson.

Largely because it is purchasing more Australian wool than any other country, the United States took exports amounting to approximately $93,176,000 during the seven months.

Imports from the United States amounted to $64,265,400, leaving an export surplus for the seven months of approximately $28,910,600.

Nourse Challenges Labor, Industry To Use Good Faith

Truman's Chief Advisor
Is Speaker; Newbury
Also Speaks at Cornell

By TONI ADAMS
Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—National labor and industrial captains were challenged today by President Truman's head economic advisor to replace what he termed "strong-armed stuff" by "good faith" in collective bargaining.

"Do we not have to forego war as a method of settling disputes?" Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, demanded last night at the opening session of the first labor-management conference called by New York state's pioneering two-year-old school of industrial and labor relations at Cornell University.

At a meeting today, Frank D. Newbury, a director and former vice president of Westinghouse Electric Corporation, outlined his interpretation of management's defense in the economic struggle and warned that a "sizeable" drop in prices would result in "a real depression."

Victor G. Reuther, educational director of the C.I.O. United Auto Workers, also was on the "wages, prices, profits, productivity" program of the second session in the three-day meeting.

Nourse, a native of Lockport, who was graduated from Cornell in 1903, told the 250 labor and management representatives and students in Ivy-walled Willard Straight Hall that strikes and lockouts were the greatest threats to achievement of maximum production.

Later, in an interview, Nourse said he had "not thought of this" as endorsement of the controversial Taft-Hartley law, some provisions of which go into effect tomorrow.

Best Formula
"The best formula America has developed for working together in a modern industrial society," Nourse said, "is collective bargaining."

He added, however, that collective bargaining at present was "too militant, too little scientific."

goods closely in line with costs of production.

"The 10 per cent drop in prices could occur only if income payments declined 25 per cent," he said.

"A recommendation or prediction of a sizeable drop in prices," Newbury said, "is a recommendation or prediction of a real depression."

Prices of manufactured goods, Newbury maintained, are "the result of natural law."

He added: "On the surface of things, management in manufacturing industries is free to establish prices as they see fit. . . . It would be more logical (but not nearly so effective politically) if all these advocates of lower prices were to urge the government to reduce the money supply by debt reduction and to reduce the cost of production by reducing corporation taxes."

Modernize Your Home

Looks as if our old houses are going to have to do us a while longer. Might as well face facts and make what we have more comfortable and up to date.

Modernizing the interior of the house has many possibilities. Rearranging a few partition walls permits a better use of wall space. A few new pieces of equipment, properly installed, increase the convenience and efficiency of the house.

Sometimes a few square feet of waste floor area in the kitchen may be used for the construction of a broom or linen closet. A large hall is another logical place for a new closet, and conversely a large storage closet upstairs might be ideal converted into an extra bathroom.

Some old houses have both a living room and a parlor which may be combined into one spacious room by removing the partitions.

Basements and attics offer endless challenge to the imagination. As recreation or workrooms, they can be decorated to resemble anything from a ship's cabin to a ski lodge.

In our Reader Service booklet No. 15, written by an architectural expert, practical suggestions are given for remodeling and improving the interior of your home.

Send 25 cents (coin) for "Small Homes, Planning, Financing, Building," to Kingston Daily Freeman, Reader Service, 243 West 17th street, New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address with zone, booklet title and No. 15.

The apple, most widely cultivated fruit, is closely related to the pear family.

Portrait of a Summertime Tragedy

Shaken with sorrow, Mrs. Woodrow Young seeks comfort in the arms of her husband, while rescue crews search the waters of Lealman Lake, near St. Petersburg, Fla., for the body of her 12-year-old daughter, Mary. The father tried vainly to find the girl, but gave up when his strength was exhausted. Later rescue workers found the drowned body.

MISS ROSE MARIE FIDA

Mrs. John Kulas and James Fida of Syracuse, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Rose Marie Fida, to Vincent John Mazzuca, son of Mrs. Rose Mazzuca and the late Charles Mazzuca, 210 Downs street.

The wedding will take place October 11 at St. Peter's Church in Syracuse. (Prestia Photo)

Roentgen Brothers Will Play Sunday At St. James Church

Engelbert Roentgen, internationally known cellist, and organizer of the Woodstock String Quartet, will return to the St. James Methodist Church, Fair and Pearl streets, Sunday morning during the regular 11 o'clock worship service.

Mr. Roentgen, who is the first cellist with the Metropolitan Opera Company and who has played with the New York and Minneapolis Symphony orchestras, will be accompanied here on this trip by his brother, Julius Roentgen of Holland who is presently visiting in America.

Julius Roentgen is equally well-known in America and Europe as a violinist as he was a member of the Knickerbocker Quartet from 1907-1912. He is a member of the string quartet of the Holland Conservatory at Amsterdam and now devotes his time to private teaching and recitals in Holland. He plans to return to Holland September.

C. Franklin Pierce, director of music at the church, has arranged a special program of music including the violin, cello and organ played by Mr. Pierce.

The program includes "Air" by Bach; "Nocturne" by Chopin; a violin solo by Julius Roentgen on an arrangement by Corelli and a vocal solo by Mildred Fatum of "Light" by Frederick Stevenson. The Rev. Merrill C. Johnson, pastor, will speak on the topic, "The Windy City of the Hill."

Natalie Scott Wed To William H. Arlt In Woodstock Sunday

Miss Natalie Scott of New York city, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O. Scott, was united in marriage to Irwin L. Arlt, son of William H. Arlt of Woodstock, Sunday, August 17, at 2:30 p. m., at the Woodstock Lutheran Church. The Rev. O. E. Cook, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

Miss Lydia Russell of West Hurley was soloist. The church was decorated with pink and white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Austin Fischer of Boston, Mass., the bride wore a white linen suit with a large white picture hat and she carried pink roses.

Mrs. Carl Cousins, as matron of honor, wore a grey suit and carried white roses.

John A. Whitaker of Bogota, N. J., was best man. Carl Cousins and Joseph Raymond of Woodstock were ushers.

A reception was held at the bridegroom's home in Woodstock. They will make their home in Woodstock.

Pauline Popowick, Newburgh, Bride of Wesley Finch, Highland

The marriage of Miss Pauline Popowick, Newburgh, to Wesley Finch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Finch of Highland, took place July 23 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Perkins on Vineyard avenue. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Herbert Greenland, pastor of the Methodist Church.

The bride wore a powder blue suit and a corsage of white gladioli. Her attendant, Miss Evelyn Drusik, Beacon, wore a yellow suit with blue accessories and a corsage of salmon gladioli.

Ray Riley was best man. A reception followed the ceremony with guests present from Newburgh, Modena, Ardona and Highland.

Mr. and Mrs. Finch will make their home in Poughkeepsie where both are employed.

Bayonne Church Choir Has Enjoyable Time at Shokan

Ashokan, Aug. 21—The choir members and friends of Bergen Point Methodist Church, Bayonne, N. J., were guests of Mrs. A. Macaluso and her grandson Peter and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Dolce at Sunkist Cottage here over the week-end.

Despite rain they carried on their scheduled activities with the exception of hiking.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Haddock, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfgang and daughter, Carol; the Misses Elizabeth Steiger, Margaret Robertson, Jeanne Macaluso, Elaine Macaluso, Agnes Martin, Phyllis DeCamillis, Mrs. Mary Schneider, William Jones, Carl Hadler, Morgan Kern and Ernest Bode.

Personal Notes
Miss Catherine E. Gardner of Ulster Park is vacationing with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Gardner of Hampton, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mills of Miami, Fla., have announced the birth of a son born July 25 in Miami. Mr. Mills formerly worked in the office at the Forest Packing Co.

Mrs. William S. Eltinge and Miss Frances Osterhout of 105 St. James street, and Miss Ella Millham, 165 Fair street, are spending their vacation at Westport on Lake Champlain.

Waynesville, Mo.—A daughter, Karen Ann, was born August 16 to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Woelmack. The mother is the former Kay Perry of Kingston.

Bridal Shower Given For Virginia Rappleyea

A bridal shower was held in honor of Miss Virginia Rappleyea recently at the home of Mrs. Edna Coles, 297 Hasbrouck avenue.

Gifts were placed under an umbrella, which was trimmed in green and yellow with streamers to the gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Coles, Mrs. John Walker and Miss Harriet France.

Those attending were: the Misses Regina Orcutt, Ann MacCalline, Ellen Boice, Kathryn Heavey, Mary Beaver, Mrs. Yapples and Mrs. Burnell.

Miss Rappleyea will become the bride of Merrill A. Yale of Joy's Lane in September.

Hurley Firemen Plan Dance for Saturday

The Hurley Fire Company will sponsor a square and modern dance Saturday evening at the Hurley school auditorium starting at 8 o'clock.

Proceeds of the dance will go toward paying back funds borrowed by the department to purchase the new truck.

The committee in charge of the dance includes Joseph Armacher, Kenneth Wainwright, Edmund C. Wink, Richard A. Dray, Richard Jones, Ernest Myer and Charles Messinger, chairman.

Miller Is Elected By State Firemen; Eagles Are Barred

Catskill, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—Roswell D. Miller, Roslyn Heights, was reelected president of the New York State Firemen's Association today.

Other officers re-elected were Arthur M. Heiner, Rochester, first vice president; Irving J. Wallach, Poughkeepsie, second vice president; Eugene M. Braun, Eggertsville, secretary, and George F. Cornell, Brooklyn, treasurer.

John J. McConnell, Flushing, was elected to the executive committee and William E. Kirk, Jr., Inwood, Ernest Stoll, Bayport, and Frank G. Walther, Whitehouse, were named trustees of the Firemen's Home at Hudson.

The association voted to hold their 1948 convention in Rome.

A bid was received to hold the 1949 convention in Kingston.

The Eagles Fire Department of Croghan was barred from the present convention's tournament and parade because members allegedly persisted in traveling across the Rip Van Winkle Bridge at high speed and refused to pay tolls, President Roswell Miller announced.

R.C.A., Electrical Workers Agree on Arbitration

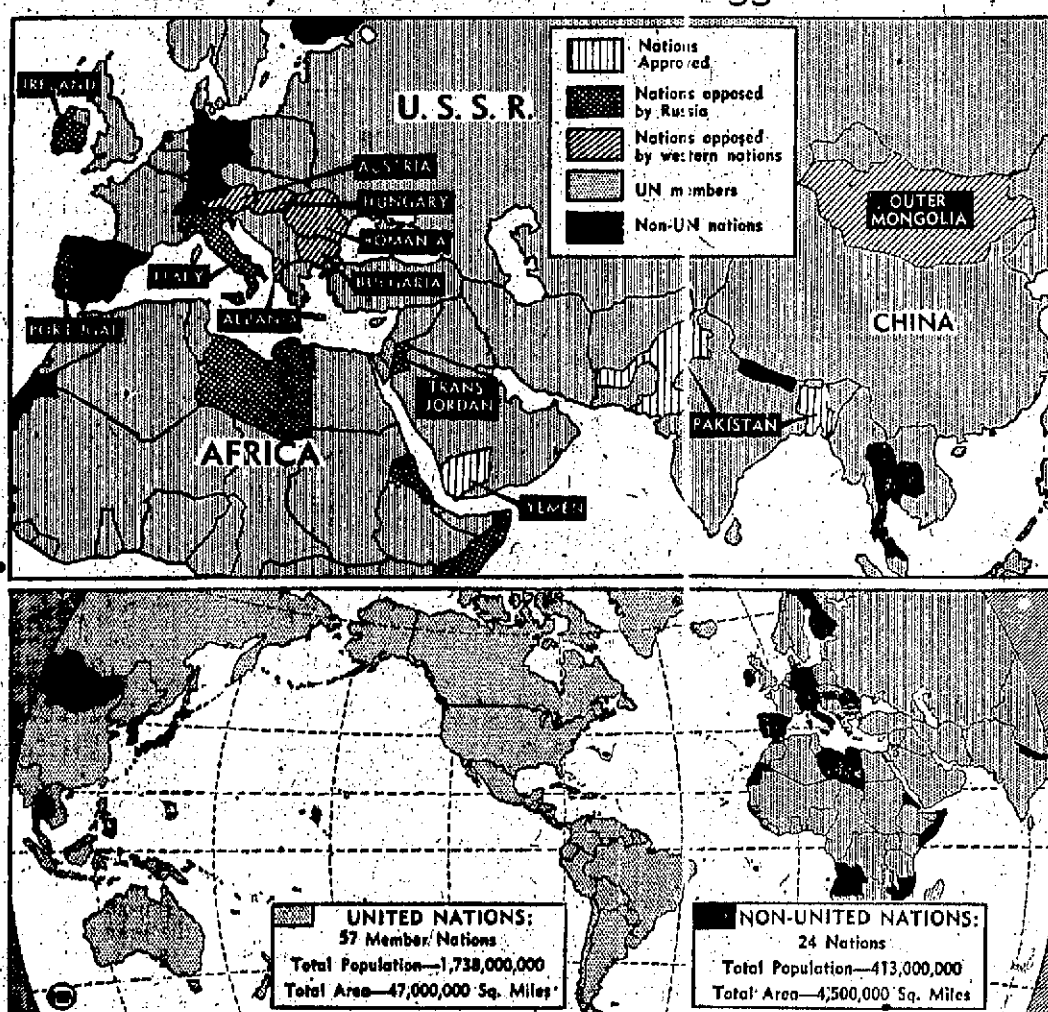

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Resourse to the courts or to the new National Labor Relations Board by either side is denied by a new two-year agreement between the R.C.A. Victor Division of the Radio Corporation of America and the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (I.O.U.).

In the agreement signed yesterday, both parties pledged to settle grievances only through arbitration procedures.

The union agreed that it would not sanction any strikes, slowdowns or picketing except for non-compliance by the employer with an arbitration award, and the company agreed there would be no lockouts except for union non-compliance.

The agreement provided a five cents hourly wage increase for the company's 11,000 employees in Camden, N. J.; Lancaster, Pa.; Hollywood, Calif.; and Pulaski, Va. Reopening of wage discussions before next May 7 will be permitted if 60-day written notice is given. Range of present wages was not announced.

Two In, Ten Out in World's Biggest Club

It's thumbs up for two and blackballs for the rest as 12 more nations try to join the world's biggest club—the United Nations. The Arab kingdom of Yemen, and the new dominion of Pakistan are the only approved applicants as Russia or western nations veto the rest (top map). World map shows how the new total of 57 United Nations embrace 90 per cent of the world's total area and 80 per cent of the population.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

A bride-to-be asks how a five-year-old boy can take part in her wedding procession when she does not want a ring bearer. "I don't suppose carrying a basket of flowers would be suitable, even for a boy so young. He doesn't seem to be the flower-carrying type of boy, if you know what I mean."

Yes, I do know what you mean and definitely would not suggest making him carry flowers. But with empty hands, all people, including young children, become self-conscious. Why not give such a boy a prayer book to carry—a big church one, temporarily covered in white. This would be better than the usual small and feminine one carried by a bride. He could be told when to hand it to the clergyman, who then would read the service from it.

Separate Invitation for Son

Dear Mrs. Post: We have received several wedding invitations as well as graduation invitations and announcements addressed to "Mr. and Mrs. and Son." The son, incidentally, is a man in his early forties, which makes the "Son" on the envelopes particularly unsuitable. What is your opinion?

Answer: The same as yours, except that I personally never have heard of it and, therefore, suppose it to be a local custom. Correctly, a grown son should receive a separate invitation. This is really a strict rule.

Hats and Corsages

Dear Mrs. Post: (1) Should the hostess and the guest of honor wear hats at a tea when this is held at a clubhouse? (2) Also, should the hostess present her guest of honor with a corsage, as well as the ladies she has asked to "pour"?

Answer: (1) If tea is held on a veranda—in other words, outdoors—they should wear hats. If it is indoors, the guest of honor may wear a hat if she prefers to do so. (2) Corsages are not a requirement of etiquette but customarily are given at such times in many localities.

Not Junior

Dear Mrs. Post: When a child has the same first name as his father, the same second initial but not name, should he be called "Jr."?

Answer: No.

Mrs. Post has written a leaflet entitled, "Engraved Wedding Forms for a Widow (and Divorcee)." To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to her in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station C, N. Y. 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is very sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Won't Talk Publicly

Nanking, Aug. 21 (AP)—Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer plans to leave China Sunday without indicating publicly his recommendations to President Truman regarding future United States policy in this strife-plagued land. Chinese officialdom, from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek downward, has been on pins and needles since the arrival of Wedemeyer's fact-finding mission.

Members with cars, who will have room for riders, are asked to stop at the American Legion Memorial Building on West O'Reilly street, on their way to the Alpine, and those needing transportation are requested to be at the Legion before 6 o'clock. The committee in charge promises that there will be rides for all those who need them.

tion. Austin Hogan, president of Local 100 of the Transport Workers Union (C.I.O.) said the action is an outgrowth of a dispute over interpretation of pension provisions of a June 18 arbitration award made by David L. Cole. The union contends the award guarantees lifetime pensions for employees retiring before next January 1, contract expiration date, while the corporation has asked in Supreme Court for a declaratory judgment supporting its contention that the pension obligation expires with the ending of the contract.

Tiano, Bruhn Named to Top K.A.A. Posts

Brodhead and Moss Also Elected at Annual Meeting

Charles J. Tiano, sports editor of The Freeman, was elected president of the Kingston Athletic Association at the annual elections held last night at the Elks Club. Tiano succeeds Thomas M. "Tommy" Davitt, who had led the organization for three years and had been one of its founders.

District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn was named vice president. Palmer Brodhead was elected secretary and Sam Moss re-elected treasurer. The top four candidates were unopposed.

Six directors were elected from a group of ten candidates as follows:

Director, three years—George Dawkins and Chris Riezo.

Director, two years—Dick McCarthy and Eddie Murphy.

Director, one year—John McCord and Joseph Messinger.

An additional slate of six directors will be named at the September meeting.

Retiring President Davitt, who built the Kingston Athletic Association to one of the outstanding sports groups in the city, was presented with a ring in recognition of his services to the organization. Dr. Francis O'Connor, who with Davitt was responsible for the early success of the K.A.A., was introduced and spoke briefly on the past history of the association and commended Mr. Davitt for his splendid efforts. Dr. O'Connor said the large attendance reflected the continued interest in the K.A.A. and expressed the hope that this year's membership campaign will surpass the 807 members signed last year.

Several members of the Kingston High School 1947 DUSO baseball champions attended as guests of the K.A.A. for the buffet luncheon that followed the elections.

A committee was appointed by President Tiano to discuss with officials of the Colonial City Huskies the new local semi-pro football squad, the disposition of several uniforms now in possession of the K.A.A.

Dick McCarthy, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the Frank Leahy dinner, reported that the Notre Dame coach will be in Kingston on August 6.

It was reported that plans for the "Junior baseball classic" next Tuesday night at municipal stadium are progressing satisfactorily. As in 1946, one thousand kids will be admitted free, the cost of their tickets having been underwritten by local merchants and interested citizens.

The baseball classic next Tuesday brings together the Brooklyn-Adelphi-World juniors and a picked team of Hudson valley stars.

Action Expected

The Hague, Aug. 21 (AP)—A high source said today "there can be no doubt" that Dutch action in Indonesia will be resumed on a large scale "if the Security Council, in its meeting tomorrow, should refrain from ordering the Indonesian Republic to cease their present hostilities by which they violate the council's cease-fire order."

Baseball World Still Agog Over Spirit of Cardinals

(By The Associated Press)

The baseball world was agog today over the spirit of St. Louis—and 25,762 Ebbets Field fans who yesterday braved damp and dreary weather to watch a tense diamond drama come away echoing the memorable words attributed to the late fight impresario, Tex Rickard, "I never seed anything like it."

The Cardinals climbed back to defeat the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers 3-2 in 12 furiously fought innings and cut the Brooks margin back to four and a half games. A home run smash by Whitey Kurowski broke up the game.

For two thrill-packed hours fans had sat enthralled at the marvelous pitching of Ralph Branca, Brooklyn's ace hurler. At the end of eight dramatic innings, the Birds had only one safety off Branca and were trailing 2-0. Red Schoendienst, St. Louis leadoff hitter in the ninth, walked, but the 21-year-old fireballer quickly disposed of the next two batters. Then Branca whipped over two strikes on Enos Slaughter.

Slaughter, walked. Now there were two on and two out. Branca threw two very wide pitches to Ron Northey and Manager Burt Shotton called on cool Hugh Casey.

Northey singled to score Schoendienst and send Slaughter to third. Johnny Jorgensen bobbled Kurowski's hopper and Slaughter scored the tying run.

Sudden Death Finish

Then came the turbulent tenth. Howie Pollt, the stylish Card left-hander, was on the mound. He had relieved Ted Wilks who had replaced starter Murry Dickson. Ed Stanky punched a single to right, and was bunted along by Jackie Robinson. Pete Reiser walked and Carl Furillo drilled a line hit through the right side.

Chuck Diering came charging in on the ball and rifled a line throw out to catcher Del Rice who put the tag on Stanky.

Then came Kurowski's Ruthian smash.

Berlin Order Issued Against Keeping Livestock

Berlin, Aug. 21 (AP)—Meat-hungry Berliners may no longer keep pigs, goats or other livestock on the balconies or in basements of their homes, the city government ordered today.

The ordinance provides that all purchases, sale or barter of livestock must be reported to district offices within three days, or unreported animals will be confiscated without compensation. The purpose of the order is to appportion scarce fodder only to commercial livestock raisers.

A companion order requires that all Berlin households which own more than two chickens must sell their eggs to the food ministry.

Connelly Picnic To Be Held Sunday

Village Firemen Arrange Full Program for Day

Connelly, Aug. 21—Hasbrouck Engine Company has scheduled a picnic for Sunday at the village ball field, and adjoining grove, where a full program of enjoyable features is promised by President Edgar Maurer, who said the event will become an annual affair. In case of rain it will be held at the firehouse.

The picnic will be in progress from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m., with dinner served from 12 noon to 2 o'clock. There will be plenty of other refreshments available throughout the day.

There will be games, music and recreation for patrons of all ages, including several softball games and horseshoe pitching contests.

Mine Wounds Two

Jerusalem, Aug. 21 (AP)—Two British soldiers were wounded, one seriously, when an electrically detonated mine blasted their truck near Natanya today, and in Jerusalem an Arab store was demolished by a bomb which army sources said was tossed by an Arab "boycott patrol." Unofficially, a $10,000 ($40,000) was stolen from an Arab bank messenger during a transfer of funds.

Sets Her Cap for Bendix Trophy

Jane Page, 25-year-old aviatrice of Wilmette, Ill., points her name on the P-38 she will pilot in the $10,000 Bendix Trophy Race at the National Air Races in Cleveland on Aug. 30. She will compete against such stellar speedmen as world-flyer Bill Odom.

Wants Freedom From Brig

San Francisco, Aug. 21 (AP)—A former Navy petty officer yesterday sought a Federal Court order to free him from the brig at Treasure Island where he said he had been held since May 28 without a hearing. The applicant was former Signalman Norman Reed
Fish, Jr., of 90-32 180th street in the Jamaica section of Queens.
Hearing on his petition for a writ of habeas corpus was set for August 25. Fish told the court he came here voluntarily last May 28

after being honorably discharged
when he heard the Navy wanted him in connection with the theft of two typewriters. Since then he said he has been locked up.

De Gaulle's Party to Act

Paris, Aug. 21 (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle's organization, the French People's rally, will enter party politics on a nation-wide scale in October with full tickets in the country's municipal elections. The organization was founded by de Gaulle last April 14 to reform the new French constitution by increasing the power of the executive branch of the government.

McKENNEY
ON BRIDGE

What You Should Hold for Cue Bid

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

America's Card Authority

Written for N.E.A. Service

While the play of a hand may be a complicated matter, generally there is only a right and a wrong way to handle it. Most of the arguments in tournament bridge concern the bidding.

There is rarely a hand that is bid in the same way at the majority of the tables in a contest, and I doubt if there ever has been a hand bid exactly the same at every table.

In today's hand, for example,
only two pairs out of fifteen reached a six contract. One pair arrived at seven diamonds, and although they got one good break

South's cue-bid in hearts guaranteed no losers in that suit and showed at least four spades. In other words, you do not make a cue-bid on the early rounds unless you have at least four of your partner's suit, or a solid suit of your own.

Check Flying White House

Santa Monica, Calif., Aug. 21
(AP)—The flying White House, a four-engine special D-C plane, returned to the Douglas Aircraft Co., plant yesterday for a final checkup before taking President
Truman to the Rio de Janeiro
Conference. Lt. Col. Henry T.
Myers, pilot, said the plane
"tickled like a well-oiled watch"
on its shakedown flights, logging
100 hours, 32,000 miles and 28 countries. Mr. Truman has yet to fly in the plane, named the Independence.

Bird Smugglers
Foreign bird dealers frequently use leaves of bread in which to smuggle out birds whose exportation is prohibited. The young bird is placed inside a hollowed-out loaf, in which are breathing holes.
